FIFTY-SEVENTH YEAR No. 279 LINCOLN, NEB., SATURDAY MORNING, AUGUST 22, 1959 SEVEN CENTS

NEW U.S. 50-STAR FLAG UNFURLED

HAWAII IS WELCOMED

Stars Rearranged, But 7 Red Stripes And 6 Of White Are Unchanged

Washington (AP) — The enchanting islands of Hawaii became the 50th state Friday and another star was emblazoned on Old Glory.

The 7 stripes of red and 6 of white remain unchanged as they have for more than a century. But the new field of 50 stars will have 9 rows, 5 with 6 stars each and 4 with 5 stars each. This is in place of the present 7 staggered rows of 7 stars each adopted when Alaska was welcomed into the union last January.

The 50-star banner will not become the official flag until next July 4.

A 10-minute bit of history, with President Eisenhower presiding in the cabinet room at the White House, ushered Hawaii into the union and fixed the design of the new national emblem.

Dozen Pens Used

With a dozen pens, which were distributed to dignitaries later as souvenirs, Eisenhower signed a proclamation of statehood for the Pacific islands of Hawaii and an executive order establishing the design for the flag.

Then, in a little informal speech on what he said was "truly a historic occasion", Eisenhower remarked:

"All 49 states will join in welcoming the new one—Hawaii—to this union. We will wish for her prosperity, security, happiness, and a growing closer relationship with all of the other states.

"We know that she is ready to do her part to make this union a stronger nation—a stronger people than it was before because of her presence as a full sister to the other 49 states.

"So all of us say to her, 'Good luck.' And to each of her representatives, a very fine tour of service in the public domain. We know that they will find their work interesting and fruitful for all of us."

Rayburn Whispers

Sam Rayburn, speaker of the House, leaned over and talked to the President for a moment from his spot on Eisenhower's left. Vice President Nixon sat at the chief executive's right.

"The speaker just reminds me of one fact that has great historic significance," Eisenhower said. "Next Monday will be the first time in 158 years thereh as not been a delegate in the membership of the Congress of the United States. The delegates are gone and in their place we have senators and congressmen."

Both Alaska and Hawaii were represented by non-voting delegates in the House while they were territories.

Rising to his feet, Eisenhower turned and watched two uniformed Army officers unfurl the flag of new design.

Chuckling, he remarked he was glad he wouldn't have to preside at such a ceremony again for a while as he and those who helped design new flags were running out of ideas.

Two Missing

Two prominent Hawaiians were missing from the White House ceremony — Gov.-elect William F. Quinn and Sen.-elect Hiram Fong. They remained in Hawaii so Quinn could take his oath of office as soon as word was flashed that Hawaii was a state at last, after 56 years of effort to become one. Fong remained there for that ceremony.

Edward Johnston, secretary of Hawaii, was the stand-in for Quinn. He rushed to a telephone as soon as Eisenhower proclaimed Hawaii as tate and relayed the word to Quinn.

Sen.-elect Oren E. Long and Rep.-elect Daniel K. Inouye were on hand and got a warm greeting from Eisenhower. Fong, Long and Inouye will be sworn in as members of Congress on Monday.

Ceremony In Hawaii Subdued

Honolulu (AP) — Statehood came to Hawaii Friday, a victory of a 56-year effort by the people of this rich, tropical Pacific island chain.

But the day—traditionally sunny — passed almost unnoticed in Honolulu, bustling capital of the 50th state, where 321,500 people, or more than half the population, live.

A quiet ceremony was held at Iolani Palace, where Gov. William F. Quinn and Lt. Gov. James Kealoha, were sworn in. Only family members and press representatives witnessed the historic event, ending 59 years of territorial status.

A formal inauguration has been set for next week. The official celebration will come around Thanksgiving in November.

UAW Blasts Curtis, Mundt For 'Re-Election Witchhunt'

Washington (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union Friday accused two Republican senators of waging a "political vendetta" against the UAW and its president, Walter Reuther, as a means of winning re-election next year.

Jack Conway, administrative assistant to Reuther, and Joseph L. Rauh Jr., the UAW's Washington counsel, leveled the charge at GOP Sens. Karl E. Mundt of South Dakota and Carl T. Curtis of Nebraska.

Conway said that as members of the Senate Rackets Committee, Mundt and Curtis were making the UAW the "victim of a political withhunt." He said the two Senators were steering the course of the current committee hearings, which Conway labeled the kickoff for their 1960 re-election campaigns.

Informed of the Rauh-Conway statements, Curtis retorted "This is an inquiry for facts, and the facts developed can speak for themselves."

Mundt said "When the facts are in will be the appropriate time to say whether the practices disclosed are proper."

Group In Recess

Conway and Rauh spoke at a news conference after the rackets committee had recessed until next Wednesday its preliminary public hearings on the auto workers.

They complained about being unable to get their side of the story into the committee record. Conway described the news conference as "the only way the UAW has to defend itself" against charges he said are false.

The rackets group is conducting what is billed as a preliminary study intended to help it decide whether it should go into a full scale probe.

Fired Official Testifies

The main witness Friday was Jesse F. Motsinger of Detroit, who testified he was fired in 1955 as a UAW international representative because he tried to expose "what I thought was corruption" by some other union officials.

Motsinger testified he learned that Richard T. Gosser, senior international vice president of the UAW, had encouraged international representatives on his staff to submit false reports to union headquarters at Detroit.

He said the official reason for his ouster was a fist fight with another UAW official. But he said he felt his dismissal "was a direct result of my attempting to expose what I thought was corruption at the international level, waste of money and failure to conform with the Reuther administration."

Conway and Rauh challenged Motsinger's testimony and spoke of him as being disgruntled.

Nebraska Shrine Bowl Draws National Praise

Omaha (AP)—Top American Shriners Friday praised the first annual Nebraska Shrine Bowl as an excellent idea.

The imperial potentate of the North American Shrine, Dr. Clayton Andrews of Lincoln and the head of the Shriners hospitals for crippled children, Galloway Calhoun of Tyler, Tex., attended a banquet for the coaches of the squads and top Nebraska Shriners.

Calhoun said the Nebraska all-star game, featuring recent high school graduates was one of 20 such games in the United States.

R. C. Russell of Lincoln said he hoped $50,000 would be raised for the Minneapolis Shrine Crippled Children's hospital, which serves Nebraska.

Biggest Activity

Andrews said the Shrine Bowl, which, he said, he was confident would become a major Nebraska sports event, was the largest Nebraska Shrine activity.

Other major Shrine sponsored football games include the East-West game in San Francisco between college graduated players and North Carolina-South Carolina all-star prep game in Charlotte, N.C.

Calhoun said he tried to attend a number of the benefit games each year. He said he watched one in Great Falls, Mont. last week and earlier attended the Carolina game.

Some 50 Shriners took part in the Friday night banquet including Gov. Ralph Brooks.

Western Electric Operations Here Continue Into '60

The final article in the series in The Star on Lincoln's future as seen by business leaders contained an erroneous reference to "the departure of Western Electric, inc."

A recent announcement by Western Electric Company stated it would maintain production at its Lincoln plant into the fall of 1960. Most of those affected by a cutback in the work force here were either transferred to the Western Electric plant at Millard or have been absorbed by other industries in the community.

The Star is glad to make this correction.

Crete Recalls 'Good Old Days'

By Gene Budig

Crete, Neb. — "Remember the time Bill and I skipped school for a week and went fishin' in the muddy Mizzou?"

"Sure I do . . . and do you recall how mad your folks got?"

"Boy, those were the good old days."

This and hundreds of other old school day tales were exchanged at the 30th annual Old Settlers Picnic here Friday.

About 70 persons, ranging from 50 to 85 years of age, turned out for the yearly "gabfest."

Most of the old-timers centered their talk around Crete's expansion and the juvenile delinquency problem.

"The foundation of Crete's success rest with Doane College," 80-year-old F. W. Ball said, "of course a couple new industries wouldn't hurt matters."

Ball, who represented Dist. 23 in the state legislature in the 1920's, had this to say about the younger set at Crete, "They're a good bunch of kids, but I don't see why they have to be on the move all the time."

"The blame for this delinquency problem should be aimed at the adults rather than the teenagers," he said.

The retired farmer believes the reason the rate of delinquency has increased is because of a weak mode of home life.

Most of the listening old-timers went along with Ball's statements.

Khrushchev To Address U.S., Spar Verbally With Newsmen

Washington (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev will make a major address and engage in a no-holds-barred question and answer session with reporters at the National Press Club here Sept. 16, it was learned Friday.

The entire proceedings will be carried throughout the nation on television and radio by the major networks, who have offered up to two hours air time for the affair.

Arrangements for Khrushchev's first formal meeting with the press were worked out late Friday at meetings of State Dept. officials with representatives of various press clubs and radio and television executives.

Itinerary Due

Meanwhile, officials said they expected to release Saturday a skeleton schedule for Khrushchev's 12 day visit, which begins in Washington Sept. 15. The initial schedule is expected to list only the cities he will visit, together with the dates, leaving details to be filled in later.

After 3 days in Washington, Khrushchev will go to New York where he is sheduled to address the United Nations General Assembly on Sept. 18.

The schedule then calls for him to visit San Francisco, Los Angeles, Des Moines, Ia., and Pittsburgh before returning to Washington about Sept. 27 for a final session of confidential talks with President Eisenhower.

Ottawa (AP) — Prime Minister John Diefenbaker's office announced that Soviet Premier Khrushchev has advised the government he will be unable to visit Canada after his trip to the U.S. next month.

Navy Halts 'Seamaster' Production

Washington (AP) — The Navy Friday night ended its $441-million Seamaster jet seaplane production program, deciding that only the 9 planes now built will be used.

The contract with the Martin Co. originally called for delivery of 24 planes.

Fred A. Bantz, undersecretary of the Navy, said the original idea for the big jet-powered planes "was good, but has been overtaken by unforeseen technical difficulties."

The high speed, sea-based planes had been designed for long-range minelaying and reconnaissance missions.

AF BANS BAHAMAS PARTY JUNKETS

Washington (UPI)—The Air Force assured Congress Friday that no more of its officers will go on gay weekend parties in the Bahamas Islands as guests of defense contractors.

"It just doesn't look good—whether improper or not," said Asst. Air Force Secretary Philip B. Taylor.

He told a House armed services investigating subcommittee the Air Force was "taking steps" to ban such junkets. He said he did not know whether a formal directive would be issued, but that the Air Force planned to "get the word around."

Chairman F. Edward Hebert (D-La) praised the Air Force for putting out a "real verboten" against such lush entertainment. The subcommittee is looking into possible influence peddling on defense contracts by retired military officers and others.

Officials of the Martin Aircraft Co., Baltimore, Md., told the subcommittee last week it gave such affairs for officers, footing airplane travel and weekend costs for them at a plush country club in the Bahamas.

Defense contract and procurement officers were among the military officers invited.

Taylor also told the subcommittee that he did not think it proper for Air Force officers to discuss any confidential defense business at "small, off-the-record" parties.

Hebert brought up the subject by asking Taylor about a party which 3 defense industrialists planned for Lt. Gen. Bernard Schriever, Air Force research and development chief. The party was cancelled in the wake of publicity about it.

Taylor said he was sure Schriever would not have discussed anything he shouldn't have.

Steven, Anne Marie Wed Today

Governor Arrives For Ceremony

JERRY RIGG OF OMAHA BEST MAN

Sogne, Norway (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller arrived in Norway Friday night for the wedding Saturday of his son Steven to Anne Marie Rasmussen and insisted on talking romance, not politics.

With a fatherly kiss for Anne Marie, who was at Kristiansand Airport to greet him with her father, Kristian Rasmussen, and Steven, the governor said:

"I'm delighted to see you again, my dear."

Anne Marie worked in the Rockefeller home in 1956, first in the kitchen, then as a parlor maid.

Steven took Rasmussen by the hand and drew him through a crowd of newsmen to meet his father. The two fathers shook hands and both grinned.

"I'm very glad to meet you, sir," said the governor.

Warm Welcome

"Velkommen, velkommen (welcome, welcome)," Rasmussen replied.

Anne Marie's father, until he retired two years ago, was a grocer and fish merchant on a small island two miles off the mainland of south Norway. Anne Marie's mother, Lovise, a shy, taciturn woman, did not come to the airport.

She was at home getting dinner for the governor, his wife, and their whole family with the Rasmussens in their modest home.

She prepared a meal of lobster, roast lamb and apple cake for the guests.

Crowds Line Road

Crowds from Sogne and nearby fishing and farming communities lined the road below the Rasmussen home to catch a glimpse of the young couple and their parents. Other crowds stood along the highway leading from the airport into Kristiansand and from there to Sogne.

Steven finally named as his best man Jerry Rigg of Omaha, Neb.

"Jerry is my oldest friend," he said. "We are very very close."

The Lutheran service is to be conducted almost entirely in Norwegian by the vicar of Lunde Kirke, the Rev. Olav Gautestad.

The white church is not far from Anne Marie's home.

The Rockefellers are Baptists.

Steven said he has been studying the Norwegian text of rites.

"I know them pretty well, and I'll know what is being said all the time."

Sculptor Epstein, Called Genius, Madman, Is Dead

London (AP) — Sir Jacob Epstein, who rose from the East Side slums of New York to world fame as a sculptor, is dead at 78.

A family spokesman disclosed Friday that Epstein, one of the most controversial figures in the annals of art died at midnight Wednesday in his Hyde Park home across a narrow street from the residence of his friend and fellow artist, Sir Winston Churchill.

With him was his second wife, Kathleen Garman Epstein, 54.

The creator of such figures as "Genesis," "Adam," "Eve" and "Ecce Homo"—which led some critics to call him a genius and others a madman—had been in ill health for months.

The spokesman said Lady Epstein delayed announcing the death until Friday because she wished to rest before facing publicity.

Epstein's series of stone grotesqueries culminated in an eerie, elongated, broad-nosed figure of Christ called "Ecce Homo." This triggered his last big headline argument.

Batista Takes Lisbon Stroll

Lisbon, Portugal (AP) — Fulgencio Batista, ousted president of Cuba, took a stroll through the streets of Lisbon Friday and met briefly with newsmen.

He received reporters in the luxurious suite of the hotel where he is staying, but he declined to discuss political topics except to say he has abandoned political activity.

He said he will go on to Madeira after his wife and members of his family arrive here from the U.S., but that he is not certain when that will be.

Batista arrived in Portugal Thursday from the Dominican Republic, where he had been living in exile since his government was overthrown Jan. 1.

Kill Off Pigeons, Scientist Advises

Montreal (AP)—Dr. Chester W. Emmons, chief of mycology at the National Institute of Health at Bethesda, Md., told the International Botanical Congress Friday that 50 to 60 Americans die each year of meningitis traceable to pigeons.

He said another harmful effect traced to pigeons is psittacosis (parrot fever) and that several other diseases may be spread by the birds.

Dr. Emmons advocated exterminating pigeons from city buildings and farm houses and barns.

"I don't want to be an alarmist or start controversy," he said. "But the pigeon is a dirty bird. If people knew enough about them they wouldn't want them around."

Agreement

Washington (AP)—Senate and House conferees working slowly toward a compromise labor control bill, have agreed to bring small unions under provisions requiring public reporting of finances.

Subdivisions For In Lieu, Excise Taxes Defined

Political subdivisions other than the state, county, cities and school districts generally are not entitled to participate in payments made in lieu of taxes by public power districts, nor in excise taxes levied on such districts, according to an opinion Friday from the Attorney General's office.

The opinion, written by Assistant Attorney General H. G. Hamilton, was issued in answer to a query from Saline County Attorney Joseph Ach.

Nebraska voters last year adopted a constitutional amendment which provided that public power districts should pay a tax equal to 5% of the gross revenue realized from the retail sale of electricity in incorporated cities and villages.

From this is to be deducted the amount equal to the in lieu of tax payments made by the district in 1957, but which are to be continued.

How To Erase Crocs

Brunei, Borneo (AP) — The way to start the riddance of pestiferous crocodiles, croc hunter Mat Yassen Bin Hussain told the Brunei Shell Oil Co., is to lay gold along the river for magic ritual reasons. Then bait hooks with chickens, blow a weakening stream of air down the croc snouts with a pipe when they rise, and destroy at will on the river bank. Shell gave the gold to stop the crocs from eating up the dogs in a residential area.

with a record of 700 crocs to his credit, hasn't been asked to explain the disposal of the gold.

Omaha Boy Cyclist Hits Truck, Dies

Omaha (AP) — Seven-year-old Vincent Hoffman Jr., was killed by a Truck Friday afternoon to become Omaha's 20th traffic victim of the year.

Daryl Meyer, 13, said the boy was riding a small bicycle on the sidewalk and swerved down a driveway, into the street and into the side of a truck driven by Jesse E. Ackerman, 57, Milford, Neb.

The rear dual wheels of the truck, loaded with 19 tons of crushed rock, passed over the child.

Ackerman said he didn't know anything about it "until I heard them shouting at me."

The boy was the state's 209th victim, compared with 201 at this time in 1958.

Austria Aids 4 Stowaways

New York (UPI) — Four stowaways who have been sailing the seas for 7 months because no nation would give them entry Friday were invited to live in Austria. They left for their new home by plane.

The 4—3 men and a woman—were promised jobs and homes by Caritas, an Austrian Roman Catholic welfare agency. They were assured they would not be sent to "camps."

The stowaways are natives of Yugoslavia, but fled their homeland's Communist rule several years ago and went to France.

They stowed away aboard a Danish freighter in Le Havre, France, hoping to reach the new world. However, without proper travel papers they were refused entry in the U.S. Canada, Argentina, the Dutch West Indies, Venezuela and Mexico.

In desperation, they tried other ports of call of the freighter, but they also were refused permission to enter Britain and Denmark.

They were permitted to leave the freighter and go to Idlewild Airport here after they agreed to fly to Austria, where they had lived previously.

Anne Marie's 'Poor Cop' Uncle Wasn't Invited

New York (UPI) — Anne Marie Rasmussen's "poor cop" uncle said he had not been invited to her wedding with millionaire's son Steven Rockefeller, although he sponsored the American trip that brought the romance into her life.

Andrew Swenson, 52, a New York City mounted policeman who rides his horse on a beat along the waterfront, also said that while Anne Marie was living with him in his Bronx home and dating Steven 3 years ago, she never brought him around to meet the family.

"I guess we've gotten one or two letters since she left here," Swenson said. "But I don't think she said anything about her engagement. Of course, we don't really know when she got engaged, after all.

"But my wife and daughter, they're over there now and they'll go to the wedding, I think. They went over before all this came up, but they should be going."

Swenson, a tall, red-haired man who still has his Scandanavian accent, is the brother of Anne Marie's mother. His 8-year-old daughter who is in Norway is named after the bride-to-be, Anne Marie.

Swenson said he sponsored Anne Marie's entry in the United States when she first came to America.

Oil Slick May Lead To Plane

London (AP) — A big oil slick in the Irish Sea Friday provided the only clue to the strange disappearance of Britain's newest jet bomber, the top-secret Victor Mark II.

The crescent-winged plane, designed to carry the hydrogen bomb, vanished Thursday on a routine test flight from its base in southern England.

Ships and planes searched the seas day and night before spotting the tell-tale patch of oil 40 miles off the Welsh coast.

It was not yet established that the oil came from the missing Victor. Samples were rushed ashore for experts to study.

The navy ordered two destroyers, a minesweeper and 5 frigates to the area. Planes crossed and recrossed the Irish Sea. Merchants ships were alerted.

The Victor, which cost $2.8 million to develop, is said to be the world's fastest and highest flying bomber.

No radio messages were received from the Victor after it left its base at Boscombe. No radar station spotted it. Air Force officers running the search operation said they were baffled.

Religious Fuss Cuts Wedding

Glasgow, Scotland (UPI)—The screaming bride was abducted in front of the church, a bridesmaid fainted and the minister, tossing off his gown, made a futile attempt at pursuit.

But the drama, apparently the result of a family feud over religion, ended on a happy note Friday for Rosemary Gray, 22, and James Waddell, 31, if not for the bride's angry father.

It began Thursday outside the Priesthill Church here. The Protestant minister, the Rev. J. McCormack Campbell, was waiting to start the ceremony.

Suddenly a car pulled up, a young man jumped out and seized Rosemary, and then the car sped off.

Father Accused

Waddell, who is Protestant, charged that Rosemary's father, John Gray, engineered the abduction and was in the car at the time. Rosemary belongs to the Roman Catholic Church.

"I threw off my gown and ran to the front door, but the bride and car had disappeared," said the clergyman.

Gas Tax Action Sought By GOP

Washington (UPI) — Nine Republican members of the House Public Works Committee moved Friday to force action on a penny-a-gallon hike in gas taxes to help pay for the interstate highway program.

The GOP congressmen, representing all but 3 of the committee's 12 Republicans, sent a letter to Chairman Charles A. Buckley (D-N.Y.) demanding that a committee meeting be called to consider the proposal.

Road Safety Most Urgent State Business

. . . Gov. Brooks

Gov. Ralph Brooks, as commander in chief of the citizens safety crusade, declared Friday that "traffic safety is Nebraska's most urgent business."

As one of many steps being taken to make motorists more safety-conscious, the governor reminded that effective at midnight Sept. 28, a statewide system of vehicle inspection will be started by the Nebraska Safety Patrol.

Clergy Help

Robert Conrad, administrative assistant to Gov. Brooks, said that the governor, "in response to one of the resolutions adopted at Thursday's safety conference at Omaha, is contacting each clergyman in the state of Nebraska to ask their assistance in the traffic safety drive.

The central Nebrask regional traffic safety meeting has definitely been scheduled for Hastings sometime in November, Conrad said.

Lincoln will be included in the meeting, he said, and will be asked to play a "major role in explaining how they have accomplished their excellent traffic record to date," he commented.

Lincolnite's Arm Cut When Car Hits Pole

Harold L. Kling of 5310 Walker was treated for an arm cut at a local hospital and released after his car ran into a telephone pole Friday afternoon near 42nd and Holdrege, police said.

Police said Kling, 52, was westbound on Holdrege when his car left the pavement and struck a street sign and then continued on and hit the pole.

Hans Thorne 'Considering' 1st District

Hastings Mayor Hans F. (Jack) Thorne confirmed Friday that he is "considering" becoming a Republican candidate in 1960 for the First District congressional post now held by Republican Phil Weaver.

The 30-year-old Thorne, who waged an aggressive campaign this spring which resulted in his unseating veteran Fred Barth as mayor of Hastings, said he has been "asked by many persons" in the Hastings area "to consider" running for Congress.

"This is probably the main reason I'm considering it," Thorne said, "and I would like to do it, but it will be 30 to 60 days before I definitely decide what to do."

A graduate of Hastings College with majors in business and speech, Thorne served one year at the college as director of admissions, then sold insurance until last fall when he went into the automobile and marine retail business.

Active in Nebraska Young Republican circles, Thorne was elected Young GOP national committeeman in 1958.

The mayor's post he now holds, which was his first try at an elective office, is non-partisan.

He is married and has two daughters.

$12.95 TIRES ARE NOT FOR TURNPIKES

READ THE FACTS BEFORE YOU BUY!

- High speed driving on super highways demands stronger, safer tires than anyone can sell for $12.95.
- B.F.Goodrich makes economy tires that give outstanding service. But they're designed for normal city and country driving, not for long periods at sustained high speeds on turnpikes, throughways and freeways.
- "Testing" a low-price tire on a turnpike doesn't necessarily make it safe for day-in, day-out performance under bruising, pounding conditions.
- Turnpike tires call for the strongest materials, toughest plies, painstaking design and construction. Risking life and property on anything less is sheer folly. High-speed tires can't be built for $12.95.

Lincoln Atlas Base To Cost $55 Million

Washington (AP) — An Air Force official says it will cost an estimated 55 million dollars to build an Atlas missile base at Lincoln, Neb.

Brig. Gen. C. F. Dreyer, deputy director of civil engineering, gave this figure at a recent closed-door hearing of a Senate appropriations subcommittee which had under consideration the military construction money bill. The Senate passed the bill Friday.

In response to a question by John Stennis (D-Miss), subcommittee chairman, Dreyer said of the Lincoln base:

Construction Only

"It will be 55 million dollars for the launching facilities and the technical support facilities. That is the construction cost only."

Gen. Dreyer, in the now-released testimony, also estimated that it would cost an additional 3 million dollars for each missile squadron (Lincoln will have one) for support facilities such as bachelor officer quarters and housing.

Speaking of Lincoln in particular, Dreyer said:

"The base support facilities that will support this particular squadron will vary depending on what is already in existence at the base."

The Lincoln Air force base facility is scheduled to have 10 Atlas missiles, including one on a standby basis. The 9 others will be spotted at launching sites ringing the area.

Cost of each Atlas missile at the present time is estimated roughly at 3 million dollars, or a total of 30 million dollars for the Lincoln installation.

This would bring the overall cost of the Lincoln base to around 88 million dollars.

The actual funds in the appropriation bill for the Lincoln Atlas facility during the fiscal year that started July 1 is reported to be about 34½ million dollars. This is the amount previously authorized to be spent this year.

It is included in a classified construction section of the bill for various bases throughout the country. Any future construction funds for Lincoln presumably would have to be sought at another session of Congress.

LT. COL. MARSH . . . LAFB missile man.

ICBM BEST DETERRRENT OF WAR—MISSILE MAN

"I firmly believe in the rapid development and utilization of the intercontinental ballistic missile as the most effective military weapon as a deterrent to war for the immediate future," stated Lt. Col. Frederick Marsh, missile man stationed at the Lincoln Air Force Base.

Col. Marsh of Evanston, Ill., is a 39-year old veteran Air Force pilot who joined the Army Air Corps in 1941. He was a civilian pilot before going into the service. He flew B-29s in World War II and Korea.

A trained maintenance officer in the missile program, Col. Marsh spent about 6 months at Redstone, Ala., working in the Jupiter missile program.

Missile Monitor

As Missile Weapons Officer of the 818th Air Division at the Lincoln Air Force Base, Col. Marsh's duties are to monitor the Air Base missile program development. It is his job to work with civil engineers who are developing the 9-site missile complex.

Marsh believes that the United States must maintain a "mixed force" of missiles and aircraft which is the type of striking force the Lincoln Air Base will have when its Atlas complex is completed.

One Of Three

A member of the American Rocket Society, the father of 3 children, and a Boston University graduate, Col. Marsh is one of three men at the Air Base who are authorized to wear the badge of a missile man, but he is the only one now assigned to the missile program.

Capt. Dan Babcock and Maj. William Cofield, men experienced with missiles, are also authorized missile men at the Lincoln Air Force Base.

Fear 90 Lost As Ship Sinks

Manila (Saturday) (UPI)—The Navy and Air Force joined the extensive search for survivors of the sinking of the inter-island ship Pilar II, which capsized off Palawan Island in the southwestern Philippines with at least 100 persons aboard.

Eleven persons were reported rescued by fishing boats, but it was feared at least 90 and perhaps more had drowned. The 241-ton ship capsized in high winds generated by typhoon Iris.

Pan-American Is Listed As State's Top Oil Producer

Pan-American Oil Co. has been Nebraska's top oil producer for 2 years, according to James Johnston of the State Conservation and Survey Dept., University of Nebraska.

According to Johnson's most recently-compiled figures, Pan-American, formerly the Stanolind Oil & Gas Co., produced 419,000 barrels of oil in May, compared with 222,000 barrels by Ohio Oil Co., second place producer.

Third and fourth place producers in May were British-American Oil Co. with 200,000 barrels, and Shell Oil Co., 113,000 barrels.

Pan-American's lease holdings are in Banner and Kimball Counties.

1,800 Will Work On Site Construction

Construction of the ballistic missile complex in the Lincoln area will take some 6 months and bring 1,800 technical workers to the site locations, the Air Force disclosed.

The Air Force said workers will begin arriving when the ground is broken for the Atlas missile sites. They will not be Air Force personnel, but technical men working for the contractors building the complex.

Air Force officials emphasized the work force is determined by the contractors and is subject to change.

After the bases are activated, some 700 Air Force men will be required to man the missiles.

A Lincoln Air Force Base spokesman said contractors have indicated they will hire as much local help as possible to aid in construction, but the percentage is not known at this time.

Convair, one of the major contractors, said it expects to use 500 workers for the project, possibly using some 200 local people.

New Less-Radiation Chest X-Ray Unit Used By State

By Betty Person

The State Health Department's new mobile chest x-ray unit, designed to provide increased protection from radiation to both personnel operating it and patients using it, has been put into service.

The new $25,000 unit is stationed at the south entrance of the State Capitol and, state employes have been invited to take examinations through next Tuesday.

Dr. Maurice D. Frazer, Lincoln physician and State Health Board member, said the amount of radiation the patient receives during tests in the new unit is "one-fourth to one-third the amount it used to take in the old unit."

Very Minimum

This means the individual being x-rayed is getting the "very minimum radiation needed to produce the proper type of film," Dr. Frazer explained.

The State Health Board member said school-age children will no longer be surveyed with the state unit.

"Children can be given skin tests first to determine if there is any evidence of tuberculosis," Dr. Frazer said, adding that if the skin tests so indicated "then x-rays can be taken."

Very Low Return

He noted the state has found a "very low return" in youngsters and that there was "no use in subjecting them to any radiation" unless the need was indicated.

Dr. Frazer lauded the "diligence of some of our very fine Statehouse employes who made it possible for the state to get such an excellent new mobile unit."

The new unit will be set up at the State Fair, then will be used to x-ray persons at the Penitentiary, Reformatory, the state hospitals at Lincoln, Norfolk and Hastings, employes at the Hormel plant at Fremont, and then will go into county survey work, Dr. Frazer reported.

A trustworthy institution which has achieved a name through many years of serving the public.

Errors In Extremes

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

The man who takes the middle road by never taking a stand on anything is often referred to as neither fish nor fowl. Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, for example, is not the presidential candidate being backed by a lot of people because he has failed in the past to be specifically for or against many of the major issues of the day.

No Halfway Measures

He is too friendly with everybody and this leads some people to believe that he really stands for nothing. On the other hand, there is the individual who makes a practice of leaping head-long into the pursuit of a specific objective—letting nothing cause him to waiver until he has reached the saturation point in that which he seeks. This fellow is often called a radical. What, then, you might ask is the salvation for an individual who wishes to be a constructive part of his society? Definitely, he must have an objective that can be accepted by a majority, at least, and his means for achieving it must be rational, logical and without prejudice.

Thus, the radical can be so classed because of two things — his objective and his means. These are the two things, then, by which we might measure the Draper Committee report — the 10-man team appointed by President Eisenhower to study this nation's military assistance program to other countries.

Speaking of the progress and challenge of Communism, the committee reported: "Their objective of equaling and exceeding the United States in selected areas of their own choosing has provided an unusual psychological stimulation to their people which we must more than match by dedication to our own cause . . .

"All this requires a positive individual and national dedication, greater emphasis on hard constructive work and thought, less rather than more emphasis on leisure, more rather than less application to our tasks." Look first at the objective outlines here—a stronger and more productive economy. There is nothing radical about this so it should gain general acceptance.

But we then must come to the means of reaching this objective. The committee is silent in this regard, as has been President Eisenhower but some significance might be attached to this. It might be assumed from this that the Committee's and the President's idea is simply for everyone to put aside their dreams of a better way of life and concentrate on bulging the economy.

But what could be the only end to this? The only end could be an even greater concentration of wealth and solidification of the average American's standard of living. It means, for instance, that the school teacher or the college professor, the scientist, the engineer, the coal miner, the steel worker and others who offer their skills and services for sale should do so at bargain rates.

They should be more concerned with the drilling of mathematics into little children, with the development of a new weapon or the production of more goods than they are with their weekly wage, the kind of home they live in, the age of the car they drive, the next vacation they will get and the hours they spend each week on the job.

Must Define Road To Travel

This kind of thinking is exemplified in opposition to such things as a practical national housing program, a farm program, even the currently hot food stamp plan, public works, national health insurance and a host of other programs. These are things which broaden and strengthen the economy by improving the lot of the people who make up that economy — the many people, not the few. What the Draper Committee and the President will have to do is come forth with the specific proposals by which they seek this greater dedication to economic and industrial progress.

It is not likely that the American people as a whole will go for the program if it calls, as is indicated, for sacrifice by the great majority to the enrichment of special interests. To be sure, we need a dedicated national spirit but it will have to be born and nurtured within a framework of justice, equality and freedom.

Now We Are Fifty

The flag this morning has 50 stars.

The formalities were concluded at Washington Friday afternoon granting official statehood to Hawaii.

For the good people of Hawaii it was a 56 year dream come true.

For the world at large it was a stirring experience. Here was a small collective of people unfearful of the might of a large nation, asking not for independence, but equal membership in the union, and getting it.

Had the founding fathers been able to be present they would have marveled at the authenticity of their aspirations. Here was another example of the 13 colonies-become-states sharing their sovereignty and privileges with a group of islands overseas, just as they so often shared with the developing territories of continental United States.

They would have noted, too, that, in the case of Alaska and Hawaii, the United States has broken with the past. Continental bounds have disappeared. American democracy now has the character of universality.

But the founding fathers would have marveled that this bursting out is not in the pattern of empire, nor is it a movement of ruthless force. There are no acquisitions. Rather there are joiners.

Where this expansion will lead, only time will tell. But being fiftieth does not constitute being last, no more than being thirteenth was being last.

The United States has a rich history to unfold and a long way to go.

Should Have More Of It

The government performed an admirable democratic service this week when it gave the country a dispassionate, factual report on the steel industry.

It was a report that said that prices, wages and profits have been steadily increasing over a long period of years. But it did not draw the government into conclusions of which side—management or labor—was right in the current strike. Rather it swept aside the partisan claims of both sides, gave the facts to the public as a yardstick by which it can base objective judgment. The uncolored facts are the best antidote for bias and propaganda.

The government set a precedent here that should be greatly expanded, for democracy works wonderfully well when it works on facts. At this stage of world political rivalry the free democratic West strengthens itself immensely by improving itself.

Currently the Cuban revolution is a hazy thing. The preponderant voice of criticism has labeled it communistic. This will not evoke much sympathy for Cuba. But the revolution is a matter of great moment to this country and it should not be dealt with prejudicially. The country could stand a report on Cuban facts as dispassionate and as uncolored.

The case of a Communist thrust in Cuba may be true. Again, it may not be.

Churchman Henry L. McCorkle, associate editor in Presbyterian Life has written from Havana that the Castro government is not going Communist; Cubans do not hate the United States, and the evil report about the revolution stems from land reform which is essential.

Senor Ulises Carbo, editor of the independent Havana newspaper, Prensa Libra, asserts that Cuban communism is a myth. He notes that the Catholic Church still strongly supports the Castro government. "It would not do so if it believed for a moment that Communism was a part of it."

There one has two strongly conflicting views, perhaps each to some extent partisan. It is in situations such as this that the American public could use a cool headed dependable report.

Editorial Of The Day

Is This Subversive?

From The Des Moines Register

Congress has written a provision into the Department of Health, Education and Welfare appropriation bill aimed at discouraging American high schools from purchasing Communist-made teaching equipment.

The department administers the defense education act, which provides funds for schools to purchase teaching aids in science, mathematics and modern foreign languages. The Soviet Union has been producing some excellent equipment in the science teaching field, which has won high praise from American educators, and has been making the equipment available on the United States market at costs that have alarmed American producers. The equipment includes devices for use in laboratories and classrooms to demonstrate the operation of scientific principles.

The resulting provision, signed into law by President Eisenhower last week, prohibits the purchase of science, mathematics and modern foreign language teaching equipment, or equipment suitable for use for teaching in such fields of education, which can be identified as originating in or having been exported from a Communist country, unless such equipment is unavailable from any other source."

Senator Kenneth Keating (Rep., N.Y.) explained on the senate floor that it would be harmful to national security to allow the Soviets to get the word around that American schools were relying on Russian-made teaching equipment.

If the Soviets are up to dirty work in this field, it is their strangest approach yet to subversion—supplying inexpensive, high-quality teaching aids to help American schools turn out better-trained students in science, mathematics and languages.

The action by congress is a petty one that may benefit some American equipment manufacturers, but at the expense of unnecessarily restricting school officials from making the best buy for their teaching needs.

A Right Way

The Department of Agriculture recently sold $57 million worth of surplus U.S. wheat to the United Arab Republic. The UAR did not have American dollars but it had the required amount in Egyptian pounds so the Department of Agriculture accepted a UAR credit. The pounds can be used either to buy products the U.S. needs, or can be used as loans to stimulate the UAR economy.

This is a type of surplus food disposal that helps everyone and usually does not interfere with the normal pattern of international markets. Certainly, such disposal procedures belong in any new program this nation may venture in meeting its agricultural problem.

Resistance Appears To Khrushchev Visit

WASHINGTON — There's deep but unpublicized concern inside the State Department over the proposed boycott of Premier Khrushchev's visit by some Congressmen. Especially, the State Department is upset by the personal message sent by Congressman John McCormack, the Boston Democrat, generally considered the leading congressional spokesman for the Catholic hierarchy, that as long as he is Democratic leader of the House he will not permit Khrushchev to address a joint session of Congress.

This, coupled with the proposal by Sen. Tom Dodd of Connecticut, another Catholic spokesman, that there be a period of mourning during the Khrushchev visit, has the State Department deeply concerned. Secretary of State Herter is fearful that such a movement, if it grows, may completely upset Eisenhower's hope that the Khrushchev visit may write a new chapter for peace.

Furthermore, if movements like those of Congressman McCormack and Sen. Dodd grow, the State Department is worried that Khrushchev might do what he did regarding his proposed visit to Scandinavia. When there was too much criticism of his trip in the Scandinavian press he abruptly called it off.

Cancellation of the Khrushchev trip to the United States after all the advance buildup would lead to seriously strained relations between the United States and Russia.

Note: Sen. Jack Kennedy of Massachusetts, foremost Catholic in Congress, does not share the McCormack-Dodd view of the Khrushchev visit. He believes that once the President has launched an important foreign relations policy regarding a foreign visitor, the nation should be courteous.

In contrast to the anti-Khrushchev hostility of Congressman McCormack and Senator Dodd, the Hungarian Refugee Council met in New York about a week ago and decided not to picket Khrushchev.

Ferenc Nagy, former premier of Hungary, now living here in exile, met with the Hungarian exile committee and urged its members not to embarrass President Eisenhower by demonstrating against his official guest.

Nagy advised that as long as President Eisenhower had decided on an official course of action it was the duty of those living under the protection of the United States to follow the policies of the President.

As a result, the Hungarian exiles have passed the word to former freedom fighters not to demonstrate, picket, or throw eggs at Khrushchev.

Major Parties Losing Identity

NEW YORK — The outstanding political phenomenon of the era dominated by the Republican president, General Eisenhower, and the Democratic Senate leader, Lyndon Johnson of Texas, is the blurring of party ties, programs and policies.

The reasons why are one story; whether it is good or bad is another. History does suggest that parties which fail to maintain a decisive identity in keeping with their historical past tend to disappear.

What immediately concerns the politicians who hope to occupy the choice seats in the new order which is just ahead is that the Eisenhower - Johnson blur leaves them without any clear 1960 guide lines. They are searching in both parties for the "right candidates," by which, of course, they mean candidates who will win.

Their trouble is that they can't define their "right" man with any real self-confidence. For some time it has been obvious to political observers that the old party cement was crumbling everywhere, locally and in the contests for top places. Now the politicians are confronted by both the loss of party loyalty as a compelling force and look-alike records in the handling of the federal business in Washington.

The dilemma is naturally plain to all the candidates for president. That is why, not knowing what else they can do for the present, they are exuding charm, holding press conferences on the steps of the Kremlin and in general advertising what they fondly hope is their personal appeal to the public.

They are not fooling either themselves or the professionals of the political trade. For at bottom all these people do not really believe that the presidency is only a popularity contest and so regarded by the American people. But if anyone has so far struck the right note, they have not caught it.

New York Republicans fret over Governor Nelson Rockefeller's slow start, but they are vague when asked exactly what they want him to do. The practical details of contact with state organizations are understood to be in the experienced hands of the old Dewey cadre. This should mean they are being handled fairly well, even though the past decade has brought many changes to many states.

☆ ☆ ☆

Depite the success of his Russian-Polish travels, the vice president's supporters worry lest he is too closely identified with present developments in American-Soviet policy. It is hard to see, however, how the vice president can detach himself in any real way from the Eisenhower administration record. His unceasing efforts to influence it and put the brightest face on it are probably his best course.

Discussions with Democrats develop few ideas and now new faces. They hopefully add and subtract voting blocs. They would like to see their candidates fly the party colors more boldly. There is every indication of an intent to paint those colors in more vivid hues at Los Angeles.

The casual manner in which Democrats downgrade their own candidates is one of the remarkable aspects of this pre-primary period. None of them are, after all, nobodies; they are, in fact, rather better than some collections of the moderately recent past.

Stories Of Famous Hymns

Trust And Obey

When we walk with the Lord
In the light of His word,
What a glory He sheds on our way,
While we do His good will,
He abides with us still,
And with all who still trust and obey

Not a burden we bear,
Not a sorrow we share,
But our toil He doth richly repay;
Not a grief nor a loss,
Not a frown nor a cross,
But is blest if we trust and obey.

Then, in fellowship sweet
We will sit at His feet,
Or we'll walk by His side in the way;
What He says we will do,
Where He sends we will go,
Never fear, only trust and obey.

★

By HORACE B. POWELL

One night, while Dr. Dwight L. Moody was holding a revival in Brockton, Massachusetts, a youth arose in a prayer-meeting to give a testimony and he said: "I am not quite sure, but I am going to trust, and I am going to obey".

Prof. O. B. Towner who had come to the meeting that night to sing for Dr. Moody took out a pencil and pad and made notes on the young convert's words. He sent them with a letter describing the incident to the Rev. J. H. Sammis, a Presbyterian minister, who wrote the hymn and chorus as they appear above.

Later, Professor Towner supplied the music.

J. M. ROBERTS

Labor's Third Party Possibility

Speculation as to whether American labor is headed toward formation of its own political party, widespread ever since the AFL-CIO merger, is heightened by House passage of the new labor control bill.

So far present labor leaders have eschewed the party idea. They have sought to increase labor political action and promote bloc voting, but only with relation to individual candidates.

George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, even denies anything official or formal in the kinship between organized labor and the Democratic party, which became a major national political factor during the Franklin D. Roosevelt era.

☆ ☆ ☆

Meany and other important labor leaders have, however, confessed to a great feeling of let-down because, after many labor successes in last year's congressional elections, the House controlled by the Democrats refused to stand hitched when the chips were down.

So far there is no formal move toward a third party movement. The AFL-CIO executive council, meeting this week, decided only to continue its political education program and endorsement of individual candidates.

But James B. Carey of the electrical workers has written both Democrats and Republicans who voted for the Landrum-Griffin bill that he would campaign against them in their districts as anti-labor.

Since that list includes 95 Democrats, his action represents a considerable rift between his union and the party.

It also suggests a growing recognition, already exemplified in the individual but nonparty endorsement policy of the AFL-CIO, that labor cannot depend on either party for partisan action in its behalf.

The two principal speculations have revolved around whether centrally organized labor would be satisfied with having a loose, even though usually successful affinity with one party, or would eventually launch a third party in search of real authority.

☆ ☆ ☆

The danger that a third party would tend to coalesce the nonunion majority of the nation's workers into direct antiunion action is an important consideration for AFL-CIO leaders. A general American antipathy toward a beginning of a multiparty or splinter party system is another.

But so is the possibility that development of a general class philosophy toward labor-management problems might eventually produce sufficient power for a direct take-over of political authority.

So far the decision is against. But a part of AFL-CIO power lies in the fact that the possibility always exists.

Against Airplane

Lincoln, Neb.

I noted with interest an item in the paper regarding a proposed purchase of an airplane valued at $60 thousand by the State Railway Commission for police work.

Just how such a purchase as this would benefit Nebraskans in providing for a more efficient commission escapes me. In my humble opinion it borders on something like the Nebraska navy acquiring the Nautilus. Granted it might be fun, but it would not be very practical.

It costs four people $1.20 to go from a downtown hotel to the Burlington station — a distance of some seven or eight blocks. A quick check shows this charge to be legitimate.

Until such absurd situations are brought into the realm of practicability the commissions should keep their feet on the ground.

Safety Solution

Brownville, Neb.

To stop the terrible death rate from speeding, I would suggest that all cars, old and new, be equipped with a blow out plug. The plug could not be tampered with or changed and would blow out at a speed of seventy miles an hour, exploding with a loud noise and bringing the car to a stop.

The driver would be forced to call a toll car or wrecker. The plug should be for a licensed garage only, and he would be required to make a proper report to state officers.

Love And Money Outdo Politics

SOGNE, NORWAY — Among numerous facts of Rockefeller life which the Norwegians are not aware of is the knowledge that their Nordic celebrity, Anne Marie Rasmussen, may one day be a welcome visitor at the White House.

The fact that Steven Rockefeller is a young man with numerous Amerikandke dollars has sunk in. The fact that Anne Marie may have a home on fabulous Park Avenue has been digested. The rumor that she will be able to get into radio city music hall without admission has been absorbed with approval.

But the possibility of Steven's father becoming a President of the whole United States has never occurred to these charming people—and a lucky thing, too. One more asset for Anne Marie's catch and there might be mass hara kiri among the beautiful young women of Sogne.

Everyone else here is, of course, supremely conscious of Steve's pop's political status at the moment, from the visiting family to the American and foreign press. I will not mention names, but there are two European newspapers and one foreign news service which are so heavily staffed for this story that it is obvious they believe more will come out of this wedding yarn than those two little items that make the world go round — love and money.

Meantime, while the worried ones ponder the enormously unlikely idea that Governor Rockefeller might select a fishing village as the site to cast his hat in, his wife Mary is proving that —in the role of trouble shooting politician — she is supremely capable.

If the Rockefellers did not thoroughly approve of the marriage of their 23-year-old son to a former servant, the first lady of New York has given no hint. With briskness and humor, she has fended off questions that might lead her into complications: with honesty, unspoiled by phony over-enthusiasm, she has charged into what is obviously a tremendously tricky situation. For Mary Clark Rockefeller to look genuinely "at home" with the Rasmussen family, who do not speak the same language—ethnically, socially, psychologically or any other way—this takes, as one reporter put in, "real class."

Whatever Governor Rockefeller decides to do, here or in Albany, he has an ally in politics proven under fire.

Senate Backs FDR Memorial

Washington (UPI) — The Senate approved a measure Friday setting aside 27 acres of government-owned land along the Potomac River here for a memorial to former President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The resolution, already approved by the House, also would set up a competition for the best design for the memorial with $135,000 in prizes.

SISTERS' NEW HOOD STYLE IS 1ST CHANGE IN OVER 125 YEARS

Sisters of Charity of the Blessed Virgin Mary and the Dominican Sisters have simplified their religious habit after wearing the same style for over 125 years.

To conform with a suggestion by the late Pope Pius XII, the sisters of Charity have replaced the hood and quilled border and the Dominican Sisters have begun wearing a new-style veil.

Sisters of Charity and Dominican Sisters staff Pius X High School. The Sisters of Charity also teach at Cathedral and Sacred Heart grade schools in Lincoln.

Classes at St. Teresa grade school are taught by some of the 14 Lincoln Dominican Sisters. Dominican Sisters also are on the staff of St. Michael's and St. Cecilia's schools in Hastings, St. Patrick's School in McCook and St. Catherine's Hospital, McCook.

Beecham Reveals Recent Marriage

London (AP) — Sir Thomas Beecham, irascible 80-year-old dean of British conductors, disclosed Friday that he has recently married his 27-year-old secretary, Shirley Hudson.

The wedding, Sir Thomas' third, took place Aug. 10 at a civil ceremony in Zurich, Switzerland.

Not a word leaked out until Friday when the goateed maestro placed a six-line notice in the London Daily Telegraph.

Montana Mountains Still Tremble

West Yellowstone, Mont. (UPI)— Mountains in the Yellowstone area still trembled Friday, the fourth day after Monday night's disastrous earthquakes.

Helicopters and airplanes continued their search for vacationers who might be stranded. But the main problem had switched from getting people out to preventing the curious from coming in.

Ten cars were guided to safety Friday after being stranded in the Cliff Lake area, where a landslide killed two of the 10 persons known dead. U.S. forest service bulldozers cleared an exit road.

Warning System

An emergency radio communications system was set up to warn residents of any new danger such as weakening of the landslide-formed dam that formed a lake in Madison River Canyon.

A dozen shocks strong enough to be felt shook the area early Friday. Some 400 aftershocks of varying intensity have been recorded since Monday night.

"People wake up, turn over and go back to sleep," said Robert Wiseman, Red Cross disaster relief chairman at West Yellowstone.

There had been some fear that looting might be a problem as residents left homes in the Madison Canyon slide area. However sheriff's deputies set up road blocks to keep out unauthorized persons.

Lake Rising Slowly

The "Lord's lake" formed by the big slide in Madison Canyon was still rising slowly Friday. Engineers said, however, it probably would be more than a month before it could top the slide and flow down the canyon. The Army corps of engineers sent in a crew to study the situation.

The Red Cross at Bozeman said it had replied to about half of 15,000 queries regarding persons who might be missing. Trucks with loudspeakers drove through Yellowstone National Park asking vacationers to notify the Red Cross or relatives that they were safe.

Officials reported there were 11,000 persons in the park Friday as compared with 17,000 on this date last year. Many left hurriedly after the earthquakes began.

Toll Machine Looting Told

Chicago (UPI)—A high-living repairman was accused Friday of siphoning off up to $500 a week from the "foolproof" collection machines of the Illinois tollroad system.

State's attorney's police said they got on the trail of ex-convict Earl Roy Garman, 27, after he became a big spender of nickles and dimes.

Their suspicions were confirmed, police said, when they found a waist-high vase in Garman's apartment containing $1,200 in nickles, dimes and quarters.

Officials estimated that Garman had pocketed $6,000 in small change during the last 4 months.

Police said they still weren't sure how Garman had managed to loot collection machines at 4 points along the tollroad system.

They said that, in his capacity as repairman of the devices, Garman had apparently devised some "gimmick" to shut off the flow of change to the concrete-encased vaults.

Paul Newey, chief investigator for the state's attorney's office, said "wine, women, gambling and being a big shot" tripped Garman.

Once, Newey said, Garman held a night club party with 3 women and paid the entire bill with nickles, dimes and quarters.

Reported Payment Of $5,000 To Long To Be Investigated

Baton Rouge, La. (AP) — The East Baton Rouge Parish (county) district attorney will make a report to the grand jury next Wednesday on an alleged $5,000 payment to Gov. Earl K. Long by a New Orleans steamship group, the Baton Rouge State-Times said.

The East Baton Rouge grand jury, meeting next week, will decide then whether the reports warrant further investigation, the newspaper said it learned from a reliable source.

Some time ago, it added, Dist. Atty. J. St. Clair Favrot received grand jury directions to file a report on verbal and published accounts of the $5,000 brought to Long by New Orleans oilman Louis J. Roussel.

In June Roussel said the $5,000 was handed to him by Earl S. Binnings, member of the steamship group interested in blocking 1956 legislation dealing with the Mississippi Bar Pilots Assn.

Binnings denied the money was a bribe.

Long vetoed the measure.

At his home in Winnfield, the governor said he never had received "tainted money" and said he would be able to explain the matter.

Kookie Receives Mixed Reception

Chicago (UPI) — Wavy-haired television star "Kookie" Byrnes drew 18,000 worshipful teen-agers and one bad egg to Midway Airport Friday.

The egg was heaved by one of the few boys who joined the feminine throng greeting the jive-talking star of "77 Sunset Strip."

The splattering yolk left a stain on Kookie's black cashmere jacket.

"Nobody has ever done this to me before," he said reproachfully.

Rule Of Laos Handed Over To Prince

Vientiane, Laos (AP) —Crown Prince Savang Vathana, 52, has taken over rule of Laos and defense of this tiny nation against a Communist uprising.

His 74-year-old father, King Sisavang Vong, bedridden by rheumatism, appointed him regent and he was invested at the gold-spired royal palace in Luang Prabang.

The Paris-educated Prince, who has long represented his father at official functions, was given full powers as monarch, an Information Ministry spokesman said. That means he will act for the king as chief of state, Commander-in-chief of the 25,000-man, U.S.-equipped army and supreme religious authority of the largely Buddhist Loatian people.

Creation of the regency came at a time when infiltrating Communist battalions were threatening an offensive and leaders of Laos' two Communist neighbors, Red China and North Viet Nam, were getting together for an ominous pow wow in Peiping.

A defense ministry spokesman said the Communist buildup continued, but bad weather was holding up any major moves.

Montana Quake Killed Relatives Of Local Man

Mrs. Purley Bennett, whose husband and 3 children were killed in the Montana earthquake Monday night, is the niece of C. C. Minteer of 1120 No. 37th.

The Bennett family had left their home in Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, last Sunday for a vacation in the Montana mountains.

Only Mrs. Bennett and 15-year-old son, Phillip, survived.

According to Mrs. Minteer, services will probably be in Coeur d'Alene. However, she said they had heard no details other than those in the Lincoln Star Friday morning.

To Study State Credit Card Use

A government study committee appointed by Gov. Ralph Brooks plans to look into possible abuses in the use of state gasoline credit cards, committee chairman Clair Callan of Odell reported Friday.

There have been reports, he said, that state cards have been used for the purchase of gasoline for privately owned automobiles.

The credit cards are meant to be used to procure gasoline for state-owned automobiles.

The committee already has been exploring the possibility of obtaining discounts on gas purchased by the state.

However, George L. Watters of Lincoln, secretary of Nebraska Petroleum Marketers, Inc., told the committee at one of its Statehouse sessions Friday that filling stations operate on too small margins to permit discounts on regular drive-in purchases of gasoline by the state.

Suggested Discount

The Callan committee earlier recommended that the state receive the discount represented by trading stamps given with gasoline purchases. The committee learned that some of these stamps have been going to the individuals making the gasoline purchases.

Gov. Brooks appointed the Callan Government Reorganization Committee — a sort of state-level Hoover Commission — to study the possibilities for streamlining government and making it more efficient.

Studies so far, Callan said Friday, indicate that "the efficiency of a department or office pretty well depends on the man in charge."

"If every administrator worked at his job as though it were his own business, there would be a great improvement, at state, local and federal levels."

WESLEYAN IS TAKING NEW APPLICATIONS

Nebraska Wesleyan University is continuing to accept applications from qualified students, President Vance D. Rogers said Friday.

Despite the fact that all indications point to an increased enrollment, we are not shutting the door on qualified applicants, the Wesleyan president said.

"There have been rumors that applications are no longer being accepted at Wesleyan for the year ahead," he said. "This is not in keeping with the admissions policy adopted last fall. It is our intention to provide room for any qualified applicant who wishes to study on the Wesleyan campus."

NPPS Rate Hearing Delayed Week

Columbus, Neb. (AP) — District Judge R. D. Flory of Columbus Friday continued for one week a hearing on the York County Rural Public Power District's efforts to enjoin the Nebraska Public Power System from putting new rates into effect.

The continuance was granted after a conference with attorneys and Judge Flory said it was by mutual agreement.

The York County District had asked the court to enjoin the Loup and Platte district, owners of NPPS, from putting into effect Sept. 1 a new rate schedule, which York contended would have a discriminatory effect.

The new hearing date is Friday, Aug. 28, at 10 a.m.

Roy Speece, manager of the York district, said the wholesale rate to York County for 1958 averaged one cent per kilowatt hour. He estimated that under the new rate it would be about 1.2 cents per kilowatt hour.

The non-irrigation counties would pay about nine-tenths of a cent under the new rate, he estimated.

Speece said he felt the new rate would probably give York a rate increase of between $30,000 and $50,000 a year.

Another Boy Gets York Aid

York, Neb. (UIP) — For the second time in less than 3 weeks, York County residents were taking up a collection to help one of their number in a fight for life.

Donald Bussard, 16, Lushton, was in a Lincoln hospital after undergoing amputation of his right arm earlier this week because of a cancerous bone condition. His condition was listed "as good as could be expected."

Earlier this week, Ronnie Hankel, 9, died after a delicate heart operation in a Denver hospital. The operation was the only chance the boy would have had for life.

Service for Ronald Hankel will be held at 2:30 p.m. Saturday at Emmanuel Lutheran Church in York.

New Gage County 4-H Building's Opening Coincides With Fair

By Gene Budig

Beatrice, Neb. — Civic-minded Gage County residents have taken out $25,000 worth of youth insurance.

The insurance may not be in policy form, but it's just as effective, if not more so.

In order to provide more educational activities along the 4-H line, a band of farmers and businessmen got their heads together and decided to erect a full-time 4-H meeting center.

After months of planning and campaigning, their plan became a reality and today, Gage County has one of the state's finest 4-H meeting places. The steel building, measuring 60 by 122 feet, is located northwest of Beatrice on the county fair grounds.

The gleaming structure, finished in the traditional 4-H colors of green and white, opened doors for the annual Gage County Fair now in progress.

County officials feel certain the new addition will be a "shot in the arm" for area 4-H work.

"The county's been in need of something like this building for a long, long time," a spokesman said, "and already the group's registration has leaped."

The spokesman added that funds secured from membership drives will go toward financing the building's expenses. Additional improvements, including dressing rooms for style shows and a portable stage, will be realized as the funds increase.

"Credit for this project belongs to no one individual," he said, "it's strictly a community project."

Fifty-four persons have donated $100 and more to the building fund and in turn will have their names inscribed on a plaque in the building.

North Bend, Neb. — Judy Hoge of Schuyler reigned as the Poppers Day Queen here Friday.

More than 6,000 persons, including Gov. Ralph Brooks, were on hand as Miss Hoge won out over 24 other candidates.

Jim Blevins, one of the Poppers Day promoters, said that 200 telegrams were received by popcorn officials. Among those wiring telegrams were Vice President Nixon, Sen. John Kennedy and Bing Crosby.

Army Inspection Team Labels Ripley Record Well Done

Camp Ripley, Minn. (AP) — Eight thousand men of the Iowa-Nebraska National Guard 34th infantry division will start home Saturday morning with the "well done" of regular Army inspection teams on their encampment record.

Maj. Gen. Warren C. Wood, Gering, Neb., division commander, said he has received an advance report of the Army evaluation team which inspected the two weeks of field training here.

"The report stated that generally the division is in a 'high excellent bracket' with staffs of the various major units generally rated superior."

Gen. Wood said he was particularly proud of the report since it was earned despite complete reorganization of the division just 3 months ago.

"I am also pleased with the progress made in combat and tactical training," he said. "The progress we made this year assures advancement to company and possibly battle group exercises in field training next year."

This year training was on an individual and small unit bass.

The general said the division intends to return to Camp Ripley.

"Several improvements in both the cantonments and field training areas are being planned by the post so that our field artillery battalions can be with us," he siad.

The division's 3,000 artillerymen trained this year at Camp Guernsey, Wyo.

Formal training ended Friday morning during a two-inch cloudburst which left company streets and tent areas ankle-deep in water.

The initial homeward-bound convoy, that of the 128th combat engineer battalion, with units at Broken Bow, Kearney, North Platte, Lexington, McCook and Holdrege, left during the downpour. They were scheduled to bivouac at Watertown, S.D., Friday night.

West In Need Of Moisture

Lack of moisture is causing concern in western Nebraska.

Corn in dryland areas is stunted from lack of rain and pasturelands need moisture badly, according to county agents.

In Chase County there hasn't been "a good rain" since May 28, Asst. County Agent Ray Sall said.

Garden County has suffered from a 6 weeks dry spell, but the area received one-half inch of rain Friday to relieve conditions somewhat. County Agent Harry Kuska at Oshkosh said "things look dry" from North Platte westward.

Dear Abby . . .

Empty Sleeve No Handicap

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: A year ago, due to an old infection, it was necessary to have my left arm amputated close to the shoulder. I quickly adjusted to my loss until recently.

I became reacquainted with an old friend (now a divorcee) who insisted she'd be glad to let me escort her places. She assured me that my having only one arm made absolutely no difference to her. I have taken her out several times and enjoy her company.

Now she persists in telling me that my "empty sleeve" is conspicuous although she knows that I can't wear an artificial arm. I am losing confidence in myself. Should I continue to see her?

"EMPTY SLEEVE"

DEAR SIR: Your "empty sleeve" isn't nearly the handicap that this woman's empty head is. Drop her.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I am another one of those poor saps whose love life has gone to pot since my wife put a television set in our bedroom. Can you tell me how to get back in the act again?

NEGLECTED

DEAR NEGLECTED They say one picture is worth ten thousand words. Don't you believe it! A few well-chosen words spoken softly and at the right moment beats any picture. Try it!

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: Everyone knows that a sitter has no right to invite boy-friends over without the consent of her employer. But has the EMPLOYER the right to let the baby-sitter have boys over without the consent of the baby-sitter's MOTHER?

I found out that my 16-year-old daughter was entertaining boys at her baby-sitting job who were not allowed to come to our home. I am not trying to excuse my daughter. But don't you think the lady she sits for should have checked with me before letting my daughter entertain boys in her home? After all, my daughter is only 16 and she still needs a little supervision.

IRATE MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: What good is a sitter who needs a sitter to make sure she isn't being sat with by undesirables? If you feel that your daughter needs "supervision" (and she obviously does) you shouldn't allow her to "sit" with other people's children.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I am going with a young man who lives with his Grandma. She raised him because both his parents are dead.

He has asked me to marry him. I said yes. Now he tells me that he is expecting to have his Grandma live with us after we are married. I have heard that a third party is no good for a married couple. Should I call the whole thing off and look for somebody without a Grandma or should I take her in? She has nowhere else to go.

GERTIE

DEAR GERTIE: If you have any second thoughts about whether to "take in" his Grandma, do yourself (and the young man) a favor and call off the marriage. Bear in mind this "Grandma" raised the boy. If you really loved him, there would be no thought of "looking for someone without a Grandma."

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper She will be glad to answer your letter For a personal reply, enclose a self-addressed envelope.

Town Talk

—We've known week ends with a bit more activity than the current one has to offer, generally speaking. But in spite of the fact that the lion's share of the Friday-to-Monday period is devoted to things bridal affairs, we did manage to find a few other things of interest.

* * *

—We learned, for instance, that East Hills Country Club had a "beachcomber" party last evening — for members and their guests — The affair included dancing, swimming and a midnight supper — all out of doors.

* * *

—We heard, too, that Sunday is an extra-special day for a member of the very young set — Miss Melissa (Missy—for short), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Critchfield. Melissa is celebrating her fifth birthday with a 1 o'clock-to-3 o'clock party at her home. We might add that to Melissa this particular birthday marks a turning point in her life because next month she starts to school. Nine guests have been invited to the party.

* * *

—Mention of the Critchfields reminds us that Mr. and Mrs. Critchfield and their children, Melissa, Amy, David and Cliff, will be leaving next Friday for a two weeks holiday at Estes Park, Colo.

* * *

—Did a bit of checking on the days ahead and netted the information that there are to be guests in town very early in September. They are Mr. and Mrs. Howard Japs of La Mesa, Calif., who arrive on Sept. 3, and will remain until Sept. 6, as the house guests of Mr. Japs' brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cather.

We Hear That

Returning to their home in Nebraska City Sunday evening were Mrs. Mark Cordell and her son, Kevin. They had spent two weeks with Mrs. Cordell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Saunders while Mr. Cordell was with the Nebraska National Guard at Camp Ripley in Minnesota.

☆

Leaving on Sunday for a short trip will be Mr. and Mrs. Perry Douthit and their sons, Jim and Mike, who plan to spend a week vacationing at Chadron State Park and in the Black Hills.

The Star In Suburbia

PARK MANOR

The welcome mat is out this morning for Mr. and Mrs. Marvin B. Whalen and their two children, Cynthia Denise, 2, and Marvin Bruce Jr., 1. The Whalen family, who formerly resided at 1921 Riviera, moved into their home at 1818 Mindoro Dr. in July.

Heard from the stork of a new young resident in Park Manor. He is Michael Sherman Chill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Chill of 1835 Morningside Dr. Michael arrived Aug. 4th at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Chill of Marion, Kan. The maternal grandmother, Mrs. James Campbell, returned to her home in Chappell recently after spending some time in Lincoln with her new grandson. The Chills have three other children, Patricia, and twins, Carol and Carter.

Neighbors are happy to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Julius Goldberg and their two children, Tana, 15, and Melvin 11, to Park Manor. Formerly of Mission, Kan., the Goldbergs moved into their home at 1539 E. Manor in July.

•

A look at our birthday book tells us that Barbara Jean Holmstedt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan W. Holmstedt, celebrated her third birthday anniversary on Tuesday, Aug. 18. Several of her young friends came over to the Holmstedt home in the morning and then stayed for lunch as a means of helping Barbara Jean celebrate.

Joining in the festivities were Douglas and Pamela Giebenrath, Cindy and Marty Hartley, Terry Hansel, Michael Rolls, Marty Detmer, and of course, Roger Holmstedt.

Leaving Friday for Minnesota were Mr. and Mrs. Dee Ehrlich. They will be gone a week and will spend most of their time fishing. Mr. and Mrs. Ehrlich have been spending some time in Park Manor with Mrs. Ehrlich's mother, Mrs. E. L. Cobel.

Miss Barbara Barlow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barlow, was the guest of honor on Monday at a luncheon for which her mother and Mrs. Justin Tallman were hostesses at Tillman's Plaza. The occasion was the celebration of Barbara's 13th birthday anniversary. Twelve guests were invited for the luncheon and an informal afternoon at the Barlow home.

Brides At Candlelight Weddings

MRS. OREST ZBYTNIUK

MRS. ARLISS DELANO GILLIAM

At a candlelight ceremony solemnized Friday evening, Aug. 21, Miss Shari Kathleen Dunn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Dunn, became the bride of Orest Zbytniuk, son of Mrs. John Zbytniuk. The 8 o'clock wedding took place at Kountze Memorial Lutheran Church in Omaha.

Miss Barbara Zbytniuk, sister of the bridegroom, was the maid of honor, and attending her cousin as bridesmaid was Miss Constance Sue Cornwell of Walthill. Miss Barbara Joan Dunn was her sister's flower girl, and the ringbearer was Robert Michael Dunn, the bride's brother.

Charles Piper of Avoca, Ia., served as best man, and seating the guests was Ronald M. Cornwell of Walthill.

The bride wore for her wedding a gown of white tulle and Chantilly lace over taffeta. A portrait neckline accented the fitted bodice of lace, and the brief sleeves were complemented by long mitts of matching lace. The full tulle skirt was trimmed with sequined bowknot appliques of the lace and ended in a chapel train.

The couple will reside in Lincoln where the bridegroom is associated with KOLN-TV and is attending the University of Nebraska.

The marriage of Miss Bettie Ann Wommach, daughter of Mrs. R. L. Wommack of Dallas, Tex., to Arliss Delano Gilliam, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Gilliam of Muskogee, Okla., was solemnized Sunday evening, Aug. 16, in Rees Hall Chapel of Union College. Lighted white candles, dogwood blossoms and lemon leaf foliage formed the background for the 8 o'clock service, which was read by the Rev. W. H. Elder.

Mrs. Luther Talley was her cousin's matron of honor, and the bridesmaid was Miss Sharon Chatfield, of Crowell, Tex. Costumed identically in pink polished cotton with matching head bandeaux veiled with pink illusion, the attendants carried white Fuji chrysanthemums. Miss Mona Kay Elder was the flower girl, and carrying the Bible was Ellis Breashears. Laveda Wagner and Lanny Stout lighted the candles.

Serving his brother as best man was Charles Gilliam, and the ushers were Charles Griffin of Shreveport, La., and Harold Cornell.

The bride appeared in a gown of white tulle and Chantilly lace over taffeta. Delicate scallops of the lace edged the shoulder-wide neckline of the lace and tulle bodice, and alternate tiers of lace and tulle formed the full skirt. A bandeau of net and satin trimmed with pearls held her illusion veil, and she carried a white Bible showered with pink roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilliam left for a wedding trip to the Ozarks. Former students at Union College, they will reside at Ft. Smith, Ark., where the bridegroom will teach school.

Had Evening Service

At an early evening wedding on Friday, Aug. 21, Miss Georgia Doranette Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Watson of Biloxi, Miss., became the bride of Clifford F. Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Williams of Martell. Tall arrangements of white and pink gladioli, and lighted white candles, appointed the chancel of the First Methodist Church at Biloxi for the ceremony, which was solemnized by the Rev. W. F. Whaley.

Wearing alike frocks of blue crystalet over white taffeta were Mrs. DeLancy A. Lord of Union City, Pa., who was her sister's matron of honor, and the bridesmaid, Miss Judy Giaruso of Biloxi. A. 1c John Grant of Newark, O., served as best man, and seating the guests were Troy Pegram of Biloxi, and Jack Kime of Ashton, Ill.

For her wedding, the bride wore a gown of white, handclipped Chantilly lace over taffeta. Pearls and iridescent sequins patterned the lace of the basqued bodice to border the portrait neckline, and the brief, shirred sleeves were completed by long mitts of the lace. The width of the circular skirt of lace was emphasized by panels of taffeta caught with taffeta rosettes, and her illusion veil was held by a cap of matching lace. She carried a white orchid showered with fleurs d'amour.

The couple will reside at Hattiesburg, Miss., where Mr. Williams, who recently completed service with the Air Force, will attend Mississippi Southern College. The bride is a graduate of Sam Houston State Teachers College, Huntsville, Tex., and is a member of Alpha Kappa Delta.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you. Shrine Bowl Inaugural Set In Omaha Tonight

By Al Beebe

Omaha—Fifty-five of Nebraska's finest high school football players from a year ago inaugurate the first annual Shrine All-Star game tonight before an expected crowd of 17,500 in Omaha's Municipal Stadium at 8 p.m.

The North vs. South game cannot be rated anything but a toss-up. There are too many questionmarks on both teams to give either solid favoritism.

The teams, the South coached by Boys Town's Skip Palrang and the North by Grand Island's Jerry Lee, have been working hard for two weeks in camps at Boys Town and Fremont's Midland College.

The purpose—"Strong Legs Will Run . . . That Weak Legs May Walk."

That is the motto of the Shrine Bowl, with all proceeds to benefit the Twin-Cities Unit of the Shriners' Crippled Children's Hospital in Minneapolis.

The nation's No. 1 Shriner, Imperial Potentate Dr. Clayton F. Andrews of Lincoln, will be honored at the game. So will Past Imperial Potentate Galloway Calhoun of Tyler, Texas.

The Shriners, headed by Shrine Bowl President R. C. Russell of Lincoln, have worked for two years to make the opening game a success. Sponsoring Shrine temples are Sesostris in Lincoln, Tangier of Omaha, and Tehama of Hastings.

The North squad is composed of 27 players from north of Highway 30A and 30. The South has 28 players from below that line, with boys living in towns on the line divvied up between the two squads.

Injuries, which may play a big part in the outcome of the game, deprived the South of a pair of big tackles—Tom Moore of Omaha South and Tecumseh's Gerald Parrish.

The South lost tackle Dave Donahue of Omaha Tech via injury, tackle Ron Michka of Omaha Benson to the state champion Legion baseball team, and Jim Houston, an end from Omaha Tech, to the rodeo circuit, cutting the squad from its original 30-man strength.

Both squads have also suffered injuries to other key personnel during training, and a recurrence of some of these could hurt either club.

Weights are nearly even.

The North squad may have a little more speed, and a slightly better running attack.

The South could be a better passing team, primarily due to better pass receivers. The North has some good passers, but its ends are more noted for rugged defensive work than pass-catching, although they are not deficient in that department.

Kicking should be nearly equal.

The South squad may have a little more depth—at least, the drop to the second unit may not be as noticeable as with the North.

Shrine officials have put a couple special rules into effect for the game. All boys will play at least one minute of each half, and one period of sudden-death overtime will be played in case of a tie.

Lee's North team will run from a T formation shifting to the single wing for most plays. Tom Ernst of Columbus, the Sunday Journal and Star's Athlete of the Year and a triple-threat back, is in the important tailback position.

The South will stick to a split T, with variations. John Faiman of Omaha South, quarterback, is the important man in the attack.

The big winner will be the crippled children.

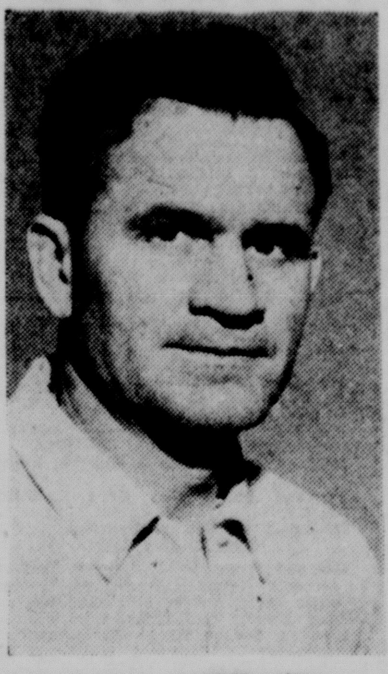
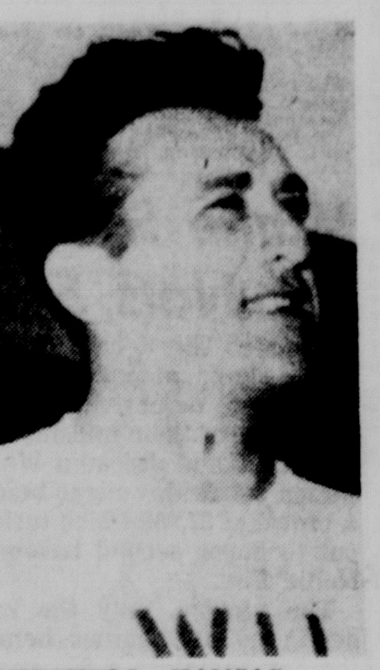
BIG EIGHT IMPROVED

Jazzy Offenses Seen By Coaches At Annual Meet



JENNINGS, NEBRASKA . . . . . "Improved Overall"

DEVINE, MISSOURI . . . . . "Improvement Depends"



MITCHELL, KANSAS . . . . . . "More Depth, Ability"

WILKINSON, OKLAHOMA . . . . . "Toughest Opener"

By Don Bryant

Kansas City, Mo.—The 1959 football season will see much more wide open offenses.

That was the unanimous feeling among the Big 8 coaches who gathered here Friday to meet with the league scribes and broadcasters, then addressed Kansas City area alums at noon.

They were also agreed on two other points: (1) The Big 8 will be considerably improved this fall and (2) They're all sweating out rugged non-conference games early in the season.

Bus Mertes of Kansas State was the first to sound the "improved league" note when he said, "all of the teams will be improved. Bud (Wilkinson of Oklahoma) will have to work for some of his wins for a change".

It was Wilkinson, politely dodging the fact that his Sooners once again are rated head and shoulders over the other 7 clubs, who focused attention on the jazzy offense picture.

"There is no question about the arrival of more varied offenses this year," Bud said. "You'll see more winged-T and the trend will be toward more flankers.

"Also, with the wider goal posts, a team will have a 50 percent better chance to kick extra points than going for 2 points. And the new substitution rule will enable the kicking specialist to be in the game. This is certain to affect the extra point situation".

Wilkinson plans to use "lonesome end" flankers and said they would not return to the huddle.

"We'll flash plays to them via baseball signals, hand on helmet, jersey of something," he said. "The reason they won't go to the huddle is to save time and the purpose of using the wide flankers is to attempt to break up the defensive jamming, move the defense further from the ball."

Jack Mitchell of Kansas quickly agreed with his former coach.

"It is obvious football will be more wide open," he said. "Jamming defenses will force it. Look for a lot of flankers and a lot more throwing."

At the noon luncheon all of the coaches expressed varying degrees of optimism, tempering their remarks with comical jabs at themselves for not having good enough teams.

Nebraska's Bill Jennings sounded a happy note, not only for this year, but for the future. He told the packed Muehlebach ballroom crowd of nearly 600 fans:

"We should be better. Although we don't have enough speed, the thing everyone is

And so was I, for that matter. But right now, things seem topsy turvy in the barn.

MacLeod Cops 12th On 8-0 Shutout Win

Cedar Rapids, Ia.—Cedar Rapids' Canadian ace Don MacLeod extended his hex over the Lincoln Chiefs and Merritt Ranew drove in 3 runs here Friday night as the Three-I League's cellar dwellers rolled to an 8-0 win.

MacLeod, an All-American hockey player by way of Port Edward Isle and Boston College, limited Lincoln to two singles while besting the Chiefs for the 3rd straight time.

It was also the 21-year-old's 3rd straight decision over Malcolm (Bunk) Warren, Lincoln pitcher who left early Friday night.

MacLeod's season mark is 12-1.

Only 4 Lincoln batsmen reached base in the first of a 3-game series.

Mike Hershberger got life on a ground ball single in the second inning, and Don Bacon lived on an error in the next frame.

MacLeod then breezed until Bacon touched him for a single in the 9th, and Gene Martin followed with a free pass. The Chiefs' Deacon Jones promptly banged into a double play to terminate the action.

Ranew, a .310 swinger with the lowly Braves, supplied all the artillery MacLeod needed.

His first of two doubles drove home one run in the first inning and he tripled in another pair of counters in the 6th.

That action plus a pair of unearned tallies in the 3rd set Cedar Rapids up with a 6-0 lead and chased Warren in favor of Joe Hoerner.

Sid Goldfader's sacrifice fly and Corky Withrow's infield out hiked the margin to 8-0 in the 8th.

Mound opponents here tonight will be Joel Horlen (1-7) Lincoln against Hank Hemmerly (11-8) of the Braves.

Hemmerly fashioned a one-hitter against the Chiefs while winning 5-0 in Lincoln 5 days ago.

Redskins Trip Rams

Los Angeles (AP) — Quarterback Eddie LeBaron guided the Washington Redskins to a 23.21 victory over the Los Angeles Rams Friday night in an exhibition football game played before 85,888.

The margin was a two-point safety which was the first score of the game early in the first quarter. Ralph Felton was credited with a tackle of Jon Arnett of the Rams in the end zone. But the Redskins stopped the vaunted Ram attack at critical periods to give them the triumph

Unitas, Baltimore Bomb Giants, 28-3

Dallas, Tex. (AP) — Johnny Unitas bombed the New York Giants into a 28-3 defeat Friday night as the Baltimore Colts won a replay of last fall's world professional football championship game.

This one didn't count, since it was National Football League exhibition, but champion Baltimore was out to show it still is superior. Its steel-pronged defense picked off 5 Giant passes, and 3 of them set up Baltimore touchdowns.

Unitas threw 6 inches to Raymond Berry for one and 30 and 21 yards to Jim Mutscheller for two more.

The other Baltimore touchdown came on a 44-yard run by fleet Lennis Moore.

The Giants never seriously threatened except once and had to settle for a 19-yard field goal by Pat Summerall that time.

For a half, the crowd was treated to a fine defensive game. But the Giants defense went to pieces in the 3rd period and allowed the Colts to score 3 touchdowns.

The 6-inch pass that Unitas threw to Berry came on 4th down when the Colts found themselves stymied after 3 running plays had made only 4 yards. Berry circled behind New York in the end zone and took the pass almost under the goal posts.

Things Ain't All Beer And Pretzels

...In Home Of The Braves

Milwaukee (AP) — Well, Momma, I guess I got to tell you. Things ain't all beer and pretzels here in the land of the free and the home of the Braves. I wouldn't want to say everybody is crying in the beer, but along about the 8th inning lately the suds gets pretty salty and ain't quite so full bodied.

Don't count us out, though, Momma. The faithful has got up a saying to go with the tough times.

"With Spahn and Burdette," the saying is, "we'll win it all yet, already."

There is some other sayings too. One of them that I can tell you is something about that Bill Rigney slowly choking to death on bratwurst. Willie McCovey and some of them other San Franciscos is welcome to join in. They talk about our attendance falling off a little, Momma, from the faithful maybe drowning themselves along with their sorrows. To see Rigney turn blue you could fill the ballyard on the banks of the Menomonee at 6 a.m. Monday morning.

Anyway this Spahn and Burdette saying is pretty confident talk, especially the way old Werner Spahn—that's the way we call it up on Villard Ave., Momma—throws at them Giants Thursday night. The baseballs was falling out in the infield from them 15 hits until you didn't know whether you was at County Stadium or maybe Schultz's driving range was renting the outfield.

But don't forget, Momma, old Werner was working with one day's rest, and this is the first time in 5 rousing attempts this year they have pried him out of the W column. With this average and the help of maybe a timely tornado or two to fill out the rotation, Momma, we could start counting the World Series money.

S. Lewis Burdette, Momma, is one ahead of old Werner already with 17 games in the bank. That is pretty near a month ahead of last year when it was September the 12th that old Lew notched No. 17. Together they got 33 put away, Momma, which is two more than all the rest of the Milwaukees' best has been able to do among them.

And they're very healthy, Momma. Like you remember from October, 1957. They get healthy when everybody else is dying, especially the Yankees.

Speaking of the Yankees, Momma, if anything that I couldn't bear to mention should happen, it's probably the fault of them New Yorks at the bottom of it. The cowards couldn't stand another autumn like last autumn and somehow that kind of took the schmaltz out of the prospects.

You know how tenderhearted we are here, Momma. Beating the White Sox in the series wouldn't be like beating the Yankees.

After all, Momma, you brought us up to be nice to the folks from the suburbs.

Giants Jump Lead, Trim Phils Twice

Philadelphia (AP)—San Francisco southpaws Johnny Antonelli and Mike McCormick, apparently making a career out of beating Philadelphia, trimmed the Phillies twice Friday night. The 6-0 and 10-6 victories extended the Giants National League lead to 2½ games over runnerup Los Angeles.

The two star Giants' pitchers now have a total of 9 victories over the last place Phillies—4 for Antonelli and 5 for the 21-year-old McCormick.

Antonelli coasted to his 17th victory against 7 losses, tying him with Milwaukee's Lou Burdette for the most major league victories this season. For McCormick it was win No. 11 in 21 decisions.

White Sox Top Nats, 5-4

Chicago (AP) —The Chicago White Sox, aided by some sparkling defensive play, came out of their midsummer doldrums and defeated Washington 5-4 Friday night before a crowd of 37,986 which turned out to honor second baseman Nellie Fox.

The victory, only the second in the last 6 games, helped the Sox maintain a 2½ game lead over second-place Cleveland which blanked Baltimore 5-0.

B. Goalby Takes Lead At Akron

Akron, Ohio (AP) — Three professionals who haven't won a tournament this year held the top spots Friday at the halfway mark in the $22,000 Rubber City Open.

Husky Bob Goalby of Crystal River, Fla. scored his second straight 66 for a 10-under par 132 to pace the pack a stroke ahead of Gardner Dickinson Jr. of West Palm Beach, Fla.

Dickinson, a 32-year-old 130-pounder, fired a 65, the lowest score of the tournament, to get into contention.

In 3rd place was Doug Sanders of Miami Beach, Fla., who carded his second 67 for 134.

Goalby, 28, a native of Belleville, Ill., has scored 13 birdies in two rounds and his 3 bogies came on the par-3 holes.

Ted Kroll and Arnold Palmer who were tied with Goalby at the end of the first round with 66, skidded a bit Friday.

Duren Saves Yankee Win

Big 8 Football To Be Improved

seeking, we are getting it.

"Actually, on paper, we are still a year away. But we have a fine group of young men who may think we're not a year away and this is the year.

"If that's the case we might have a pretty good team."

Bus Mertes of Kansas State and Clay Stapleton of Iowa State, brought down the house with their jokes about their lowly status' in the Big 8 football predictions.

But it was Jennings who got off the gem of the day. When he was introduced, he cracked:

"We're not winning any more games at Nebraska than they are at Kansas State and Iowa State. The only difference is that we're not allowed to joke about it."

Nebraska's delegation included Chancellor Clifford Hardin, Faculty Rep. Dr. Charles Miller, athletic director Bill Orwig, athletic news director John Bentley and KC alumni prexy Doug Varner.

Similar groups represented the other schools and 3 governors were on hand, Hersheil Loveless of Iowa, George Docking of Kansas and James Blair of Missouri.

In the morning press conference, Jennings made the following report on the 1959 Cornhusker squad:

Center — "We're concerned about center. We moved Don Fricke to fullback but we may have to move him back. Darrell Cooper, a transfer allowed us to shift Fricke. Behind Cooper we have untested sophomores except for Bob Kitchen and Jim Moore."

Guard — "We should be in fine shape at guard. Don Olson is coming back after a year out of school and we will use him at guard. We also have nearly everyone back from last year except Dennis Emanuel."

Tackle — "We will have everyone back."

End —"We were first elated with our ends in spring ball because we couldn't decide which ones to play. Now we're not sure. We just don't know who'll play there. We have moved Max Martz back to end after he helped us out at halfback last year. This is his best position."

Backs — "Our backs are seniors and sophomores. We are counting on Harry Tolly, a 2-year veteran, and Tom Kramer, a transfer from California, at quarterback. The halfbacks, as I have said, have some speed, but they are small. Our fullbacks — Fricke and Noel Martin — are not big, but strong. Last year Fricke played well for about 3 quarters, but at 180 pounds, he would get tired. We hope to have 22 men to use as a unit this fall."

Summing up, Jennings said:

"We'll be a young team. In another year or two, we will be at normal. You just don't win without a good bunch of seniors. This year we have just 12."

Capsule summaries of the league:

Bill Jennings of Nebraska—More size, depth and speed. improved overall, but still a young team.

Bus Mertes of Kansas State—Good chance to have the best club yet. Not too deep, but more experienced. Strongest at tackle and end, weakest at guard and center.

Clay Stapleton of Iowa State—should be better than last year by the Missouri game, if injuries don't strike. No more than one soph on first unit, more team speed and more physical strength. Long way from being out of wilderness, but making progress.

Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma—Lost half of first two units. Return the best backs and lost the best linemen from 1959. Must develop line and alternate unit. Toughest opener we've had (Northwestern) and it could determine how we'll fare.

Cliff Speegle of Oklahoma State—Don't play in conference until 1960. Vets at all spots on first club. Quarterback Dick Soergel returns and is a better than average passer. Lost 17 letterman, return 14.

Jack Mitchell of Kansas—More depth and native ability, but too much inexperience with 12 to 14 sophs on first two clubs. Improved rushing, pass receiving and defense. Lack breakaway threat and hurt by graduation of Homer Floyd.

Dan Devine of Missouri—Hate to think we couldn't be better, but improvement depends on several things. If boys who take place of guards Don Chadwick and Charles Rash and tackle Owen Worstell come through we could be much improved. Good quarter back in Hank Snowden and strong at ends. Only 6 sophomores on first 3 clubs.

Sonny Grandelius of Colorado—Large squad (79) last spring and all have been invited back. Squad includes 47 sophs. Should improve as season progresses. Pressure will be on soph quarterback Gale Weidner. Will run winged-T, will lack team speed. Center and quarterback most inexperienced. I've never seen finer ends.

AL Graduates Will Conduct Try-Out Camp

Two former American League pitching greats — Red Ruffing and Dizzy Trout—will be directing the Chicago White Sox' tryout at Sherman Field this morning.

The camp opens at 10:30 a.m. It will run just one day and will be open to youths between the ages of 16 and 22.

Players trying out are requested to bring their own equipment. Baseballs and bats will be furnished by the host Lincoln Chiefs. Youths with American Junior Legion eligibility remaining must bring written permission from their Legion coach or post commander.

Ruffing and Trout have been conducting camps for the past two months in one of the most extensive programs ever undertaken by a major league club.

'Night' Gives Nellie Fox The Jitters

Chicago (AP) — Jacob Nelson (Nellie) Fox, a tiny, self-made ball player who hustled his way to big league stardom, had his night at Comiskey Park Friday night.

As Fox, a 5-8, 162-pounder of tremendous pep and agility, played his 634th consecutive game against the Washington Senators, the White Sox and admirers of little Nell swamped him with gifts and cheers.

On hand for the festivities were Nellie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Fox of St. Thomas, Pa., who 15 years ago visited another ball park to watch their 16-year-old son first try out for a major league team.

That was at the 1944 spring training camp of the former Philadelphia A's and his folks accompanied Nellie because of qualms about his age.

Since then, Nellie has sprouted in talent, if not in stature, to become one of baseball's most durable and able performers.

Nellie, who will be 32 Christmas Day, never has attended a World Series game, nor played in one. A sparkplug of the White Sox' current pennant drive, Fox said:

"I intend to do both this year."

About the testimonial, the little guy with the outsize chew of tobacco, commented:

"Gosh, they don't have to go to all this fuss over me. Naturally, I appreciate it, but it sort of gives me the jitters to stand out in front of all these people all by myself."

If Marty Marion, who managed the White Sox in 1955 hadn't decided to give Fox a one-day vacation on Aug. 5 that year, Fox would have played a whopping string of 911 consecutive games.

Fox, highest paid Sox player with a salary of about $45,000 this year, owns a bowling alley in Chambersburg, Pa.

Terry To Shun Governor Race Unless Brooks Decides To Run

Alliance, Neb. (UPI)—State Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff said he did not want to run for governor in next year's elections.

But the Panhandle Republican told an Alliance Chamber of Commerce audience that if Democratic Governor Brooks "filed for renomination tonight, I'd file 5 minutes later."

Brooks has been considered more likely to seek a U.S. Senate seat than another term as governor. Carpenter said he hadn't made up his mind yet about the possibility of his candidacy for a Senate seat. He said he would make up his mind before March 1.

He said he did not want to run for governor because "if I were elected it would take 5 years off my life and 5 years off everyone else's."

Carpenter was asked how individuals might contribute to better government and he offered this advice:

"After you elect a man, never fully trust him. Watch him every minute."

Carpenter was asked to comment on the legislation passed by the 1959 unicameral. "It was some of the most God-awful legislation ever passed," he said.

TORRENTIAL RAIN FLOODS THOUSANDS OF LONDON HOMES

London (AP) — Torrential rain hit London like a tropical monsoon Friday, flooding thousands of homes and offices.

Traffic piled up in huge jams. Suburban train service was halted. Soaked commuters packed railroad and subway stations waiting for the floods to go down and let them get home.

Lightning struck an overhead electric cable in suburban Rainham and plunged 4,000 houses into darkness.

The deluge even got into the hallowed Stock Exchange, poured in and flooded the area where government bonds were being traded, said an official.

No casualties were reported. A few hours after the storm things were getting back to normal.

Frank Mitchell Wins 4-H Tractor Driving Contest

Frank Mitchell of Rt. 8 won the Lancaster County 4-H Tractor Driving Contest held on the Robert Caster farm southeast of Lincoln Friday.

Mitchell is a member of the Lancaster Grant Boosters Tractor Club.

Second-place laureles went to Bob Hunt, Rt. 1, a member of the same club. Larry Axthelm of Rt. 8, a member of the Lancaster Hilltop Aggies Tractor Club, placed 3rd.

Mitchell will represent the county in the Tractor Driving Contest at the State Fair.

Orchids Sent To Margaret

Balmoral, Scotland (AP) — A corsage of orchids from a mysterious American admirer arrived for Princess Margaret Friday on her 29th birthday.

The bouquet, bearing a greeting card but no signature, was delivered at Balmoral Castle along with banks of birthday blooms from all over the world.

The only man who knew the American's identity was florist William Stott in nearby Aberdeen. He would not tell. His orders arrived by cable from the United States.

Last week-end the American had Stott send the princess 3 dozen red roses.

The mystery provided just about the only faint flavor of romance to mark the commencement of Margaret's 30th year.

There was no eligible suitor on hand to join the family birthday gathering at Balmoral—the royal Scottish residence where Margaret has celebrated 22 of her previous birthdays.

HOT WELCOME

Honolulu (AP) — Hawaii became a state on the hottest day of record.

The old mark was set at the airport Aug. 7, 1957.

Senate OKs Works Bill For Military

. . . $164,000 For LAFB

Washington (AP) — The Senate quickly approved a $1,428,178,700 bill for military construction projects Friday, including a $4,625,000 item for extension of runways at Offutt Air Force Base, Omaha.

This provision was restored earlier by the Senate appropriations Committee.

The Senate committee did not, however, restore a $237,000 item providing for officers facilities at the Sioux Ordnance Depot, Sidney, which the House committee had trimmed out of the bill.

The measure now provides $5,368,000 for Offutt.

It also provides for $164,000 for the Lincoln Air Force Base; $115,000 for the Army National Guard at Wahoo and $450,000 for the National Guard at Omaha.

Living Costs Climb Again To A Peak

Washington (AP) — The government's cost of living index in July edged up to a new peak, 124.9% of the 1947-49 average.

In other words, the government figures it took about $12.50 last month for a consumer to buy what $10 would have bought in the base period.

The July level, the Labor Department said in its monthly report Friday, was up three-tenths of 1% from June and eight-tenths of 1% above July, 1958.

Food price increases led the way in the climb from June, the department said, but all major classes of goods and services played a part.

Food prices usually climb in July, going up four-tenths of 1% this time. Eggs, which have been plentiful and comparatively cheap, jumped 18%.

Friday's announcement of increases will mean pay raises—2 cents an hour in most cases—for about one million workers whose wage contracts are geared to the government index.

Dana Will Host Luther League National Meeting

Blair, Neb. — Approximately 350 delegates and pastors will open the 11th annual synodical Luther League convention on the Dana campus in Blair Thursday, Aug. 27.

This will be the last meeting of this particular group before the merger of the United Evangelical Lutheran Church with the American Lutheran Church and Evangelical Lutheran Church. As of 1960, this group will become a part of the National Luther League of the New American Lutheran Church.

The festival convention worship service will be held at 10:30 a.m. Sunday, Aug. 30, in the College Auditorium. Dr. C. C. Madsen, Dana College president, will address the group.

MEMPHIS WHITE VOTERS CHALKED UP NEW RECORD

Memphis, Tenn. (AP)—An unprecedented 73% of Memphis' registered white voters cast ballots in Thursday's election, smashing a strong bid by Negroes to win a city commission seat and judgeship.

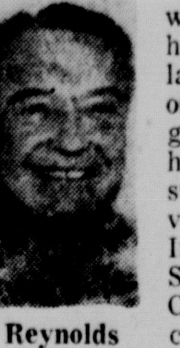
The top Negro candidate, Russell B. Sugarmon Jr., received enough votes to win past elections, but this time the mass turnout of whites snowed him under.

Sugarmon, former Rutgers football player and Harvard law graduate, ran second in the 5-man race for public works commissioner. He polled 35,268 votes to William Farris' 58,964.

A total of 130,276 votes were cast, shattering the previous record of 86,370 counted in the 1955 city election. Of the registered 57,109 Negroes, an estimated 62% voted.

REYNOLDS' MARRIAGE IS ON ROCKS

Darien, Ga. (AP) — Tobacco millionaire Richard J. Reynolds' third marriage was on the rocks Friday after 7 years.



Reynolds

Reynolds, who lives on his own island, Sapelo, off the Georgian coast here, filed suit for divorce in McIntosh County Superior Court. He charged mental cruelty.

His wife, the former Muriel Marsto of Toronto, Canada, was reported in Paris when the suit was filed. Their estrangement began in recent months.

Mrs. Reynolds flew back to New York Friday to confer with Reynolds' attorneys concerning a property settlement. She is 40 and also twice previously married.

The couple has no children. Reynolds has four by his first wife and two by his second. His present marriage followed by one day his divorce in Miami from Marianne O'Brien Reynolds, who received a two million dollar settlement.

His first wife, the former Elizabeth Dillard, divorced in 1946, got a 3 million settlement.

Reynolds, 53, is in ill health.

'59 Wage-Hour Underpayments Slightly Higher

Omaha—The sum of $328,317 in underpayments under the federal wage-hour law was found due to 1,950 employes in Nebraska and North and South Dakota during the fiscal year ending June 30, it was announced by Floyd L. Wilson, supervisor of the Omaha field office of the U.S. Labor Department's wage and hour and public contracts divisions.

In addition, 99 minors were found employed in violation of the child labor provisions of the Federal Act.

Wilson said that in the previous fiscal year, $308,152 was found due to 1,677 employes, and 71 minors were found illegally employed.

"By far the majority of the underpayments discovered resulted from noncompliance with the overtime pay provisions of the act," Wilson said, "although there were some instances of failure to pay the required minimum wage."

Hitchhiker Falls Asleep In Middle Of Busy U.S. 30

Fremont, Neb. (UPI) — An 18-year-old hitchhiker was charged with vagrancy here for going to sleep in the middle of a busy highway.

George Clements, Heber, Utah, was found by Deputy Sheriff V. B. Woodgate, who quoted the lad as saying: "I was so tired I didn't know where I was sleeping."

He was given a bunk in the county jail. Woodgate was called to the scene, on U.S. 30 just west of here, by motorists who said they barely missed the youth.

Stock Mart Ends Mixed

New York (AP) — The stock market was irregular Friday in the wake of Thursday's sharp upsurge.

Price gains about matched losses as key shares generally shifted only fractions. A handful of selected issues did suffer profit taking.

The market failed to show any follow through on Thursday's dazzling rally, the biggest since Nov. 27, 1957. The lethargy stemmed from investor concern about the lengthening steel strike and normal pre-weekend caution, brokers said.

Steels and rails, the sparkplugs of Thursday's upswing generally gave ground. Coppers and oils also eased.

But a number of electronic and retail store shares staked out gains. Motors, rubbers, aircrafts, airlines, chemicals and tobaccos were mixed.

The market pursued a mixed pattern throughout the session. Brief flurries of buying or selling were quickly countered.

Trading ran at a relaxed pace as volume dwindled to 2,000,000 shares from 2,450,000 Thursday.

The Associated Press average 60 stocks dipped 40 cents to $229.90 with the industrials down 30 cents, the rails off $1.20 and the utilities unchanged.

The Dow Jones industrial index edged up 0.37 to 655.39.

Of 1,172 issues traded, 478 advanced and 464 retreated. Highs for the year were hit by 21 stocks and lows by 17 stocks.

Nine of the 15 most actively traded issues receded, four gained and two held unchanged.

U.S. government and corporate bonds drifted lower in slow dealings.

Bond sales were $4,260,000 par value compared to $5,150,000 Thursday.

Grains Show Strong Rise

Chicago (AP) — The grain futuers market pulled out its best general price advance of the week Friday on the Board of Trade although oats and September corn slumped on late selling.

Wheat, rye and soybeans finished at or near their highs of the day with soybeans leading the advance on a runup of as much as 1¼ cents a bushel. Rye gains were mostly in major fractions and most wheat contracts were little better than steady.

Trading volume, at a very low ebb all week, appeared to be slightly better but unlike the recent previous sessions there was less tendency to press the market for profits on the bulges.

There was a limited flour mill demand in wheat but the market otherwise lacked any commercial influences of sufficient significance to establish a trend.

Dealers said buying for the most part appeared to include some short covering for the weekend and reinstatement of long positions liquidated while prices were virtually stationary earlier in the week.

Advice that yields from the spring crop were considerably below expectations in some areas also had a firming effect. Reports said some fields which appeared to be good for averages of close to 30 bushels an acre a few weeks ago producing only about 12 bushels.

Late selling knocked almost a cent off September corn in the hardest selling drive on that contract in several days.

The advances of about a cent in soybeans were the third in three consecutive days but the first time they held to the final gong.

At the close, wheat was ⅛-¾ cent a bushel higher, September $1.89½; corn ⅞ lower to ⅝ higher, September $1.18⅞-19; oats ¼-1 cent lower, September new type cnotract 66½; rye unchanged to 1 cent higher, September $1.29¼; soybeans ⅜ — 1¼ higher, September $2.10½.

Ex-Fremonters Killed In Crash

Cedar Rapids, Iowa (AP) — A Cedar Rapids, Ia., couple was killed Friday in the collision of their car and an auto transport truck on Highway 30 near Mechanicsville, Ia.

Dead were Sylvester C. LeGrand, 47, and his wife, Jessie. The truck driver, George Storey of Dundee, Mich., escaped injury.

Authorities said the car and the truck crashed headon. The transport, loaded with pickup trucks, jackknifed and went into the ditch.

LeGrand was thrown from the car and it landed on top of him. Mrs. LeGrand's body was pinned in the wreckage.

The LeGrands were former residents of Fremont, Neb.

Khrushchev Meets With Russia's Allies

Moscow (AP)—Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev has been holding a series of informal meetings with friends and allies in the Crimean city of Yalta.

The site of a World War II meeting of the Big 3 in 1944 has been drawing top Soviet officials and Soviet bloc leaders since Khrushchev recently made it his summer headquarters.

Moscow's diplomatic circles began keeping a close watch on Yalta-bound traffic when Khrushchev left the capital Aug. 7. They now have little doubt that strategy for his meetings with President Eisenhower is being developed there in a series of conferences with Russia's allies in Europe and Asia.

Ban Publication Of Gen. Power's Book

Washington (AP)—Publication of a book called "Design for Survival," written by the chief of the Strategic Air Command, has been forbidden by the Defense Department.

The department said Friday that Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy ruled it was "inappropriate for a commander of a major command to author a book concerning his area of responsibility while on active duty in that command."

The book, written by Gen. Thomas S. Power and scheduled for publication this fall by Random House, deals with nuclear striking power, but a Pentagon spokesman said no question of military security was involved.

Sources who have seen the manuscript said it restates generally the thesis, which Power has argued before congressional committees, that the Strategic Air Command should have authority to control or at least co-ordinate all major strategic weapons, including the Navy's Polaris missile-firing submarines.

McElroy's decision to bar publication was disclosed by the unofficial Army Navy Air Force Journal.

A spokesman for Random House said in New York the firm had suggested to Power that he write the book, but had received only an outline and chapter synopsis.

At Power's Strategic Air Command headquarters in Omaha it was said the general has not yet received official word of the decision and had no comment meanwhile.

Since April, 1954, military officers desiring to write books or articles for pay and publication have beeen required to obtain specific approval from the secretary of defense. This approval is in addition to the standing requirement for official clearance for both security and policy.

Policy and security clearances are also required for all public speeches.

Rescue In Space Test Fizzles

Washington (AP) — An over-anxious space capsule blasted off ahead of time and plopped into the ocean Friday, leaving its main booster rocket still standing on the ground.

Thus ended the first try at testing an escape mechanism for the Mercury Astronauts now in training for flights into space.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration, which conducted the experiment at its Wallops Island test station on the Virginia eastern shore, said no one was hurt.

Further tests are planned at 4 to 6-week intervals.

No reason was announced for Friday's premature firing, which lifted a 2,000-pound unoccupied capsule away from its main rocket carriage and lofted it into the surf.

10-foot Capsule

The mishap occurred about 20 minutes before the 10-foot-high capsule was to have been borne to great height by a Little Joe launching rocket.

At the top of its flight, around 10,000 feet, the capsule was to have been fired free and lowered back to earth by parachute.

The primary purpose of the test series is to perfect a method by which the Astronauts can be shot clear in the event their main rocket vehicles blow up or misfire after launching.

The Mercury project envisions putting a man in orbit and bringing him safely back to earth in 1961.

Friendless Nash Dies In Gas Chamber

San Quentin, Calif. (AP)—Stephen Nash died in San Quentin's gas chamber Friday as he was born—without a friend in the world.

By some standards, including his own, the confessed sex slayer of 11 men and boys died like a man.

Calmly, with a fixed smile, the 36-year-old Nash entered the little green gas chamber and peered through the wide glass windows, searching for a face.

While guards strapped him into a chair, Nash caught the eyes of J. Miller Leavy, deputy district attorney of Los Angeles County.

The smile widened and Nash gave Leavy a slow, deliberate wink.

Nash, gaunt and toothless, was specifically convicted of two southern California slayings, committed in 1956.

One was the stabbing of a Long Beach hairdresser, John Berg, 26. The other was the killing of 10-year-old Larry Rice, whose chopped, mutilated body was found under a Santa Monica pier.

Iron Curtain Torn

Walkenried, Germany (AP) — Somebody from West Germany tore a hole in the Iron Curtain near this little mountain town.

West German border police said 12 heavy concrete fence posts were down and the barbed wire cut between them. They suspected someone on the Western side who did not like the idea of the fence, completed only Thursday by the Communist East Germans.

Most Popular Book

Montreal (AP) — Though few can read it through, one of the most popular books at the 9th International Botanical Congress here is "Botany in Kazakhstan." Two hundred distributed by the Soviet delegation were snapped up and more are being sought. It's all in Russian except a dedication to the Congress saying ". . . international co-operation of scientists has always brought important scientific results and of late such co-operation plays a prominent role in preservation of peace on our planet as well."

Adlai Flattered By Support, But—

'Won't Be Candidate In '60'

New York (AP)—Adlai Stevenson returned from Europe Friday and reiterated his stand that he will not be a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

But he did not say what he would do if drafted.

The twice-beaten candidate for the presidency said: "I'd like to add my hope that my dear and loyal friends in Oregon will not enter me in their primary next spring. It would put me in the position of being a candidate, which I am not."

He added that if his name were entered he would submit an affidavit removing it.

"I am flattered that so many people seem to want me to run for president again," he said.

Asked how he would respond if nominated, he said: "I have never thought for a moment it was possible for me to be drafted in 1960 and I have no reason to think it now."

There have been recent reports to the effect that many of the big money contributors to the Democratic Party want Stevenson to make a third try.

Stevenson returned by plane from a two-month vacation and business trip abroad.

Meany To Serve On Ike's UN Team

Washington (UPI) — President Eisenhower Friday nominated AFL-CIO President George Meany, two congressmen and a former diplomatic official as U.S. delegates to the 14th session of the United Nations General Assembly.

The President named Reps. James G. Fulton (R-Pa.) and Clement J. Zablocki (D-Wis.) and former Asst. Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson to serve with Meany on the delegation.

At the same time, he renominated Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to the U.N., to head the 5-member delegation.

The nominations would provide for service up to next Dec. 31.

5 Men Attacked By Bumblebees; 2 Hospitalized

York, Neb. (AP) — Two men were hospitalized and 3 others treated for stings when they were attacked by bumblebees while shelling corn at the Manford Ekart farm near Waco.

Those hospitalized were Ekart, a York County commissioner, and Manford Cotner. Each suffered upward of 30 stings. Treated were Carnie Finley, Claude Ekart and Gilbert Watson.

The bees eventually were exterminated with spray.

Shortly after the 5 men were stung, a Kansas couple stopped at the York hospital for treatment of their son, who also had been stung by a bumblebee.

An attending physician said severe reaction of venom from the stings could cause closing of the larynx, resulting in death if the victims were not treated.

Haitians Kill 7 Invaders

Jeremie, Haiti (UPI) — Haitian troops killed 7 and captured 4 of the Cuban invaders of western Haiti in a clash Friday, reducing the estimated strength of the invader force to about 9 persons.

Army sources predicted that the troops encircling the invaders would "get rid of the last of them within 24 hours."

Ten of the 30-odd Cubans who landed near Les Irois last week had been killed in an earlier clash. The survivors are believed to be surrounded in the waterless hills above Tiburon.

Authoritative sources said the prisoners taken Friday had made an "important statement," but no details were available immediately.

New Youth Movement

Accra, Ghana (AP) — Officials of the Ghana Trade Union Congress report an all-African youth movement will be formed late this year. It will be called the Pan African Youth Council.

BANK RUN BY EX-LINCOLNITE HONORED ON 175TH BIRTHDAY

The 175th birthday of the First National Bank of Boston, Mass., stirred interest in Lincoln for personal reasons.

The venerable institution, which first opened its doors in 1784 to accept deposits from Paul Revere, John Hancock, the Cabots and the Lowells, among others, is currently being guided by a former Nebraskan—a native of Lincoln.

President Lloyd Brace has headed the institution since 1947.

Tribute Paid

The August issue of Forbes Magazine, a publication of wide circulation in business and finance, pays tribute to Brace as a versatile and talented banker who has both maintained the bank's great prestige and continued its growth to its present $1.8 billion in assets.

The Brace family left Lincoln for the east in 1910. Brace's father was a professor of physics at the University of Nebraska and it is his name that the present physics building still carries.

Young Ideas

Summarizing the current greatness of Brace's bank, Forbes Magazine observed that the bank . . . "keeps young by exercising young ideas, many of them put forward by Nebraska-born President Lloyd Brace. When he took the helm in 1947 at the age of 44 Brace himself was the nation's youngest major bank president.

Legislative Candidate Walter Jailed

Roger H. Walter of Lincoln, who filed for the 20th Dist. legislative seat Thursday morning, spent Thursday night in jail for failing to appear in court to answer a traffic charge, police said Friday.

Walter, 38, pleaded guilty Friday morning to having no registration certificate on his car when stopped by a Safety Patrolman July 6 and was fined $10 by Municipal Judge Richard O. Johnson.

Walter, according to court records, was to appear in court July 17 to answer the charge but failed to appear. A warrant was issued for his arrest Aug. 17 and he was arrested Thursday night at his home at 1849 Garfield and jailed overnight.

Walter was the unsuccessful Democratic candidate last year for Clerk of the District Court and also was an unsuccessful write-in candidate for Mayor this year.

No-Deportation Deal Told Between U.S. Mobster, Castro Regime

Washington (AP) — American mobster Santos Trafficante was reported Friday to have made peace with the Castro government in Cuba and found a haven there from U.S. police.

Well placed Senate sources, declining to be quoted by name, told the story to a reporter. They said the information came from police officials and that even the police don't claim to know any details about what sort of a deal was made.

Cuban police had arrested Trafficante last June and ordered him deported. His airplane passage to Tampa was booked more than a month ago to carry out the deportation order. When the plane landed after a nonstop flight from Cuba a delegation of federal agents and investigators was waiting at the Tampa airport. But Trafficante wasn't aboard.

Police said then they had heard informally of some sort of eleventh hour deal that stayed the deportation order.

Recently the Cuban police are reported to have decided they had no solid evidence to justify kicking Trafficante out of the country.

The Capitol Hill sources said New York police still want to question Trafficante about the murder of Albert (Boom Boom) Anastasia, the one time lord high executioner for the old Murder, Inc. mob. The federal narcotics bureau never has made any secret of the fact it practically always wants to talk to Trafficante. The internal revenue service is investigating him, also.

Trafficante became the American baron of Havana's gambling enterprises under the Batista government but was toppled from control by the Castro revolution. Gambling in Cuba was widespread and legal under Batista and is legal now but on a reduced scale. Whether he will get back into the Havana gambling business remains to be seen.

Coincidental Slaying

Anastasia was slain in October 1957 at a time when some New York underworld figures were reported planning to muscle in on Trafficante's Havana gambling territories.

Trafficante was in New York at the time of the slaying and is the last man known to have been with Anastasia before his death. He was questioned by police but released. When they sought to quiz him again he had disappeared.

The Senate Rackets Committee sought him in vain for questioning after hearing that he had attended the ill-famed gangster convention which the police raided at Apalachin, N.Y., 3 weeks after the slaying of Anastasia. Committee investigators never did catch up with him before he went back to Cuba.

Satellite Capsule Can't Be Found

Inglewood, Calif. (UPI) — The Air Force said Friday it had abandoned all efforts to recover a space capsule from the Discoverer VI satellite.

The 300-pound capsule was successfully ejected Thursday, but ships and planes waiting for the 1-in-100-chance recovery neither saw it or heard its radio signals.

Discoverer VI shot into north-south polar orbit from Vandenberg AFB on Wednesday.

COL. GRUNWELL . . . checks airman's eyes.

Col. John R. Grunwell Jr. Commands LAFB Hospital

Col. John R. Grunwell Jr., 42, has assumed command of the Lincoln Air Force Base Hospital and the 818th Medical Group.

Col. Grunwell, a veteran of 19 years of military service, succeeds Col. Charles E. Englehart, who was reassigned to Nouasseur AFB, Morocco in North Africa.

Col. Grunwell arrived at LAFB from Ashiya AFB in Japan, where he served as wing surgeon, director of base medical service, hospital commander and practicing opthomologist.

He received his undergraduate training and internship study at George Washington University.

One Of 36

The colonel was one of 36 doctors selected from a field of 1,100 applicants to fill medical posts in the Army in 1939.

He began his career as assistant opthomologist at Fort Knox and then as executive officer for the 1,000-bed 218th field hospital in Panama for 3 years.

After serving in Texas from 1944 to '46, he was sent to Alaska with "Task Force Frigid," a group whose mission was to conduct cold weather tests on all types of Army equipment.

New Methods

He was instrumental in developing new methods of shipping drugs in cold climate.

The colonel is the author of the eye section in the Flight surgeon's Manual.

"I hope to see a 75-bed hospital here at the Lincoln base some day," the colonel said. "The hospital personnel have done an outstanding job here under adverse conditions."

The colonel and his wife, Bertha, have 3 children—John, 12, Mark, 10 and Jane, 10 months.

Suit Asks $25,000 For Damages Of Car Crash
